At Hammondsville Program

Schoolteacher Honored

VETERAN TEACHER HONORED. A surprise appreciation dinner was held by the Hammondsville Parent-Teacher Association Monday night at the school, honoring Mrs. Lena Crook, first-grade teacher since 1941. Program participants included (left to right) the Rev. George H. Johnson, whose teaching career in Hammondsville spanned nearly a half-century; Mrs. Beverly Griffin, PTA president; Mrs. Crook, and Mrs. Shirley Rhodes, dinner chairman.

When Mrs. Lena E. Crook attended the Hammondsville Parent - Teacher Association's meeting Monday night, she anticipated the customary February Founders Day program. Instead she received one of the most pleasant surprises in her long career in the classroom.

An appreciation banquet had been planned in secrecy, and 125 persons, including associates, other friends and a large number of her former students, gathered to recognize her contributions to the community.

The dinner was held at the Hammondsville Elementary School, where Mrs. Crook has been first grade teacher since 1941.

PRINCIPAL speaker and toastmaster was Charles R. Cronin of the Weirton Steel Speaker's Bureau. In a eulogy to Mrs. Crook, he described her as "the prototype of all the good things people appreciate in a teacher, one who has been a credit to her profession, and a champion for better schools in her community."

Among special guests at the event were the teacher's husband, Clyde Crook; their son, Clyde Timothy, 15; her mother, Mrs. Margaret Grey, and her brother, Claire Grey, both of Mansfield, and two sisters,

Tonkin Incident In 1964 Spurred U.S. Involvement In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quizzing of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara opens a Senate inquiry into the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin incident, which generated a major step-up in U.S. military involvement in Vietnam.

McNamara is to appear today before a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The committee staff reportedly has uncovered evidence that conflicts with official reports of the Tonkin incident.

The Senate Appropriations Committee planned meanwhile to discuss North Korea's seizure of the intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo. Central Intelligence Agency officials were to appear at the closed session today and some committee members said they would press for new details on the case.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee labeled as irrational Monday the Johnson administration's contention that the South Vietnamese government is stronger as a result of the recent waves of Viet Cong attacks on the cities.

He referred to weekend statements by Walt W. Rostow, President Johnson's adviser for national security; and Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, deputy Marine Corps commandant.

"To me it seems wholly irrational, a fantastic analysis of what is happening," Fulbright told newsmen.

Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., complained of "optimistic statements in the face of so many contrary facts."

Watchmen Guard Bridge

A 24-hour watch was being kept today on the Chester Bridge to enforce a 2½-ton weight limit on the span where one of the steel barriers was wrecked late Monday afternoon by this truck.

James W. Morris, 58, of Youngstown, driver of the Goodwill Industries truck, was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol for violating the load limit of 2½ tons on the bridge.

MORRIS WAS fined $50 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to the overweight charge. The truck's registration slip showed it has a gross weight of 7,720 pounds when empty, the Patrol reported.

Questioned by the judge, Morris said he had not traveled the bridge for six weeks or more and was unaware of the barricade until the last moment. He said his truck skidded as he slammed on the Enemy Guns Seen In Air Base Sector

South Vietnamese Bombers Sent Out To Destroy Them

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese military headquarters reported today that aerial observers had sighted several Communist antiaircraft guns menacing a section of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base. South Vietnamese bombers were sent to destroy them.

A Vietnamese spokesman said the gun positions were spotted about 2½ miles south of the air base, one of the busiest in the world, which came under heavy rocket attack Sunday during the communists' "second wave" offensive.

Unofficial reports circulated that the Communists were planning another attack tonight on the South Vietnamese capital, a city of nearly 3 million people. The Viet Cong were reported to have distributed leaflets in several sections of the Gia Dinh suburbs threatening an attack and urging the people to support them in an uprising. Police and military units already are on a full alert.

The "second wave" Communist offensive last weekend has subsided, but there was no assurance it wouldn't heat up again. Intellgence reports reaching the U.S. Mission said that in the Mekong Delta province of Kien Hoa, the Viet Cong province committee received a directive from the Communist high command to provide maximum reinforcements to support the Viet Cong in Saigon in the "second wave."

These reports said the offensive was to run from Feb. 18 until the end of the month. Launched Feb. 18, it consisted mostly of rocket and mortar attacks on Saigon and 46 other cities, with comparatively few ground assaults.

The Kien Hoa Communists reportedly were told that Saigon would be leveled.

Inelligence sources said the Communists have 10,000, to 15,000 men within a day's march of Saigon, including elements of the 5th and 9th Viet Cong Divisions and the 7th North Vietnamese Division.

Amid anticipation of a new round of attacks, U.S. and South Vietnamese troops battled to drive the Viet Cong from the coastal town of Phan Thiet while other allied forces inched forward in the 21st day of the battle for Hue.

Lower Gas Rates Proposed In Bill

Council Monday night gave the first of three required readings to an ordinance providing for a new four-year agreement with the Ohio Valley Gas Co. that Solicitor J. Michael Kapp said will save East Liverpool consumers $25,260 over the life of the contract—compared with another pact that was approved in December and then repealed in January.

Providing Council approves, the new ordinance still will not go into effect until April 16. That feature alone will save the city's 6,000 customers $3.21 each, or a total of $19,260, Kapp told Council.

A SLIGHT decrease in part of the rate structure for the third year of the agreement will save customers another $6,000, Kapp added. He said the new proposal averages out to an increase of 11.88 per cent over the four years, compared with an average of 12.33 per cent in the ordinance that formerly was enacted, then repealed.

In the third year of the agreement, the rate in the sec-

Witness Tells Of Pistol In Robbery Trial

Hearing Delayed Pending Arrival Of State's Witness

LISBON — William L. (Larry) Nesbitt, 19, of 268 W. Washington St., Lisbon, testified Monday that Vincent Candito, 19, of 115½ W. 6th St., East Liverpool, obtained the pistol he (Nesbitt) used to rob Mrs. Nellie Taylor Oct. 20 at the Little Diner on Harvey Ave.

Candito is on trial before a Common Pleas Court jury for the diner robbery — as an aider and abettor.

Resumption of the trial was delayed this morning awaiting the arrival of a state's witness —Paul Spooner, who is in the Army at Ft. Knox. His mother told prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis the soldier called her last night to say he was leaving for Lisbon at 1 a.m. today by bus. The bus, due here at 9:20 a. m., evidently was running late because of snow - covered roads.

Nesbitt testified that Candito and Spooner drove him to the diner in a car owned by Mike Ryan in whose apartment on W. 7th St., East Liverpool, the robbery was planned.

Ryan's whereabouts are not known. Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan issued an unlawful flight to avoid prosecution warrant and the FBI has taken up the search. Ryan and Spooner are also charged with the robbery

Hayes To Quit Police Force For New Job

Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, a veteran of almost 10 years on the police force, submitted his resignation today to city officials to accept private employment.

Hayes turned in his resignation to Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Police Chief A. J. Radeschi and said he also will submit a copy to the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The resignation will become effective March 25. However, Hayes' last day of duty will be Feb. 28, when he will work the daylight 7-3 shift. Then he will start his annual 24-day vacation.

He was named an officer in June 1958 during the administration of former Mayor Fred Lawrence. Most of his police department duty was spent as a cruiser operator.

Hayes said he regretted leaving the force, but could not pass up the chance for advancement in private employment. He did not disclose the name of his new employer.

Vodrey commented that he regretted receiving the resignation and termed Hayes "a good officer." He said he understands the Civil Service Commission's eligibility list for patrolmen now contains the names of three men.

Mayor Suggests New Fund Study

Council and the administration should join in a new study of the city's financial resources because expenses are steadily outstripping income, Mayor George E. Willshaw told Council Monday night.

Citing figures on the general fund, the mayor pointed out it had receipts of $553,989 in 1962 and expenses of $523,289, but in 1967 the expenditures rose to $723,952 against receipts of $701,709.

"'If East Liverpool is to continue to operate at the present level, more operating funds must be provided," the mayor said in a letter he read to Council personally. "'If we are to move forward with street improvements, recreation and other programs, along with projects in which the federal government will assist, some means of financing our share must be provided.

Senate Group Set To Okay Pay Hike Bill

Legislators Would Get $7,000 Boost; Concern Expressed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Senate Ways and Means Committee was set to approve an increase from $8,000 to $15,000 in the pay of state lawmakers today despite election year concern of some legislators.

But there were reports that the move would be part of Senate-House strategy involving a proposed constitutional resolution that would give the lawmakers expense accounts on top of a pay raise.

Majority Republicans agreed in caucus, it was learned, to stick with the proposed $7,000 yearly increase despite pleas by some lawmakers to cut it by $2,000-$3,000. Spokesmen said the cutting likely will be done in the House where skepticism runs the highest.

The pending resolution is in a Senate-House conference committee and GOP senators said they could back the proposal in event of a lower pay increase or vote to scrap it if the $15,000 salary is retained.

Ways and Means Chairman Michael J. Maloney said his committee probably will act on the pay hike bill after receiving it from a subcommittee which heard more testimony Monday night from county officials, who also would be in line for increases. Approval by the full committee is likely.

Council Seeks New Study Of Pension Debt To State

Council enacted a resolution Monday night calling upon the General Assembly to make another study looking toward mitigation of a ruling that requires municipalities to pay millions of dolars into a new state-administered retirement system for police and firemen.

East Liverpool's net indebtedness under the new system is $1,095,778, representing the "accrued liability" which the state agency claims the municipality must pay to make the system actuarily sound. The state took over all the retirement systems more than a year ago. Previously, they were administered locally.

COUNCIL'S resolution, similar to others enacted throughout the state, calls upon the Legislative Service Commission to make a study "to consider alternatives to the full-funding requirements."

The resolution points out that Ohio cities have no way of guaranteeing that they will raise the additional revenue required to make the payments to the state. Under the law, cities are required to make their first pension payments to the state in 1969, but the resolution seeks a delay "until after the General Assembly considers the findings and report of the Legislative Service Commission."

East Liverpool's accrued liability originally was computed at $1,266,479 — with $522,208 for the police department and $744,271 for the fire department. However, the total was cut to $1,095,778 when local pension boards disbanded and turned over to the state the assets of the two funds. The state received $147,689 in assets of the local police fund and $23,087 in assets from the fire pension fund, a total of $170,696.

The law would allow municipalities 20 years in which to pay the accrued liabilities in annual installments.

Council enacted several pieces of routine legislation.

An ordinance was approved granting the Ohio Power Co. an easement over city - owned property from the River Rd. to Main Blvd. to provide a right-of-way for a secondary transmission line to serve the new school complex now under construction.

—:—

COUNCIL approved an ordinance granting "call - back" pay at $3 an hour to Rodney Stoll, head of the water department's line crew, for work performed outside his usual hours. His salary was left unchanged at $560 monthly.

Similar legislation was enacted a few weeks ago providing "call-back" pay for John Cornell, head of the street department, when he works overtime.

A resolution also was enacted authorizing the administration to enter into a contract for engineering of a complicated system of electrical signals to regulate traffic flow on the three - lane section of St. Clair Ave.

Mayor George E. Willshaw suggested the legislation at the Feb. 5 meeting, pointing out that the city has come to an agreement with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads under which U.S. funds will pay half the cost of the sign system.

The signs will be needed primarily during the morning and afternoon rush periods to designate which lanes are in use and which direction traffic should flow. The city was required to agree to maintain two lanes inbound during the morning rush and two lanes outbound in the afternoon peak traffic.

Councilman John Wilson said he wants the public to understand that the agreement calling for the lane - switching and resultant requirement for a marking system "was made by another Council four years ago and cannot be changed by this Council." He said he expects four or five St. Clair Ave. residents to complain about the system.

Council enacted legislation ratifying the action of Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey Jan. 31 in purchasing 2,474 tons of cinders at a total of $3,340 for use on snow - covered streets. It also approved a bill to pay a $225 claim against the city from Herbert Purton of Etruria St. He said his property was damaged Oct. 11 because of "improper flushing of a sanitary sewer" by a city crew.

Action Pressed In Pittsburgh's School Situation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The leader of one of two groups trying to win bargaining rights from the Board of Education has urged his members to cross picket lines if the rival group goes ahead with a threatened strike.

"This action. . .is a wildcat strike rammed through by their dictatorial leadership," said John McCarter, temporary chairman of the Pittsburgh Teachers Education Association.

"It is in flagrant disregard of the welfare of both the children and teachers. It is a panic move to offset the responsible statewide legislative action for school subsidies endorsed by the PSEA (Pennsylvania State Education Association) and the PTEA."

Some 1,000 members of the Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, voted Sunday to strike Feb. 29 to back demands that the school board set up an election to determine a bargaining agent for the teachers.

School officials have not commented on the strike threat, but scheduled a meeting for this afternoon. A spokesman said a statement probably will be made then.

Construction Nearing For New Post Office

Construction could begin within 10 days on the city's new post office, Postmaster Sam Brown said Monday.

Brown said the former Armour & Co. building has been leveled, with the debris due to be cleared from the area within 10 days or two weeks.

Construction should start immediately afterward, he pointed out.

Thomas McClorey of McClorey and McClorey at Cincinnati, the architectural firm awarded a contract to build the facility here, said he is not certain when construction will start. "We might start around the first of the month," he added.

The Van Fossan contracting company of Chester is handling the demolition of the old building, McClorey said.

Brown said the contract calls for completion of the new structure within 300 working days.

McClorey said Van Fossan is acting as a subcontractor on the job.

He indicated the Post Office Department has given final approval to his drawings for structure and tentatively set a September completion date for construction, barring unforseen difficulties.

The one - story structure will be located on Dresden Ave. at the intersection of Smith St.

McClorey bid $35,999 annually for the 20-year lease on the project, which includes purchase of the 50,000-square-foot tract. The building will have 16,487 square feet of space inside, 1,240 square feet of platform area and 21,946 square feet of parking space. It will face Dresden Ave. and have parking at the side and rear with the loading platform also at the back of the building. Automatic doors for the patron's entrance and working entrance are planned.

Palestine Orders Generator, Buys More Equipment

EAST PALESTINE — Purchase of a $50,000 Caterpiller generator for the city power plant as a standby unit was authorized by Council Monday night.

A rewinding of an old generator at the plant also was authorized at a cost of $20,000.

Council approved purchase of $7,000 in office equipment for the City Hall to be used for billing of light, water and sewer customers.

A meeting will be held with Unity Township trustees Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Savings and Loan Association to discuss emergency ambulance service by firemen for the township.

Local Driver Figures In 2 Bridge Mishaps

A local resident figured in two accidents within 25 minutes Saturday evening on the Chester Bridge, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

A 1967 station wagon driven by R. L. Straley, 24, of 314½ Jackson St. was involved in collisions with vehicles driven by Raymond P. French, 58, of New Brighton and Paulette S. Cheuvront, 21, of 180 Indiana Ave., Chester.

Two passengers in the Straley station wagon — Emma Straley, 23, and Tami Straley, age 1 — complained of injuries but were not treated, officers said.

The reports were turned over to Hancock County authorities for further investigation, the patrol said.

Council Seeks New Study Of Pension Debt To State

Council enacted a resolution Monday night calling upon the General Assembly to make another study looking toward mitigation of a ruling that requires municipalities to pay millions of dolars into a new state-administered retirement system for police and firemen.

East Liverpool's net indebtedness under the new system is $1,095,778, representing the "accrued liability" which the state agency claims the municipality must pay to make the system actuarily sound. The state took over all the retirement systems more than a year ago. Previously, they were administered locally.

COUNCIL'S resolution, similar to others enacted throughout the state, calls upon the Legislative Service Commission to make a study "to consider alternatives to the full-funding requirements."

The resolution points out that Ohio cities have no way of guaranteeing that they will raise the additional revenue required to make the payments to the state. Under the law, cities are required to make their first pension payments to the state in 1969, but the resolution seeks a delay "until after the General Assembly considers the findings and report of the Legislative Service Commission."

East Liverpool's accrued liability originally was computed at $1,266,479 — with $522,208 for the police department and $744,271 for the fire department. However, the total was cut to $1,095,778 when local pension boards disbanded and turned over to the state the assets of the two funds. The state received $147,629 in assets of the local police fund and $23,057 in assets from the fire pension fund, a total of $170,686.

The law would allow municipalities 20 years in which to pay the accrued liabilities in annual installments.

Council enacted several pieces of routine legislation.

An ordinance was approved granting the Ohio Power Co. an easement over city - owned property from the River Rd. to Main Blvd. to provide a right-of-way for a secondary transmission line to serve the new school complex now under construction.

—:—

COUNCIL approved an ordinance granting "call - back" pay at $3 an hour to Rodney Stull, head of the water department's line crew, for work performed outside his usual hours. His salary was left unchanged at $559 monthly.

Similar legislation was enacted a few weeks ago providing "call-back" pay for John Cornell, head of the street department, when he works overtime.

A resolution also was enacted authorizing the administration to enter into a contract for engineering of a complicated system of electrical signals to regulate traffic flow on the three - lane section of St. Clair Ave.

Mayor George E. Willshaw suggested the legislation at the Feb. 5 meeting, pointing out that the city has come to an agreement with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads under which U.S. funds will pay half the cost of the sign system.

Force Now Has 2

Police Captain's Job Established

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to legislation creating a second captaincy in the police department and clearing the way for establishment of a new "administrative and staff services division" to handle such duties as personnel, training, safety and public information.

In creating the job, which will not mean any increase in the total size of the force, Council gave its stamp of approval to a proposal filed by Chief A. J. Radeschi at the Feb. 5 meeting. The chief pointed out the additional cost to the city will be $420 annually — the difference in pay between the ranks of captain and lieutenant.

In adding the captaincy, Council cut the number of patrolmen from 21 to 20.

THE CHIEF told Council two weeks ago there has been no basic change in the organization of the police department since it was established. He said creation of the new division would "pinpoint the responsibility for many activities handled inadequately or not at all at present . . ."

The new captain's duties also would include planning and research; crime and traffic analysis; drafting of rules and regulations; maintenance of personnel records; investigation of job applicants; internal security; criminal intelligence; processing of certain types of citizens' complaints and assistance to the chief.

Dept. Capt. Kenneth Mooney is the only man on the force at present with that rank. He heads up investigative work. The department also has three lieutenants.

Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice is the only man on the Civil Service Commission's eligibility list at present for appointment as captain. If he moved up to captain, an appointment would be required to fill his post. Patrolman Paul C. Blevins at present heads the list of patrolmen on the eligibility list for lieutenant. Tice is a graduate of the FBI National Academy.

IN OTHER business, Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne presented a request to Cuncil for establishment of three more assistant chief posts in the fire department — one for each of the outlying stations on North Side, Pleasant Heghts and East End. The request was referred to the finance committee.

VanDyne told Council the action would help comply with recommendations of insurance underwriters.

He pointed out the department now is comprised of three shifts of 10 men each, including an assistant chief. He said experts advise that one officer can only supervise five subordinates effectively and efficiently.

"In our case, we are one officer short of this requirement if all of the men were operating in one station, which they are not," VanDyne told Council. "We have these men distributed in four stations with one officer, who cannot by any stretch of the imagination supervise and render necessary decisions in all four stations at the same time.

"The department now has no one to supervise routine housekeeping and maintenance duties in outlying stations," the chief said. Creation of the additional posts also would give firemen an incentive to apply themselves to their jobs "in hopes of moving up to more money and prestige," the chief said.

COUNCILMAN James Lowe asked Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey for a progress report on preparation of plans for a new sanitary sewer to serve the school complex under construction on Maine Blvd.

Vodrey replied that Engineer George Bloomgren told him three to four weeks' work remain in establishing the alignment for the sewer "after the weather breaks and the work can proceed." He said the school contractor has been advised of the location of the manhole that will be built on Maine Blvd., so that he can run a sewer from the building to connect to the new line.

The sewer originally was proposed to be built on Maine Blvd. to flow into a line on Ambrose Ave. and then into another sewer on Bradshaw Ave. After questions were raised on the capacity of the Bradshaw Ave. line, Council agreed to an alternative course for the sewer through the Beechwood area to hook onto a line in East End.

COUNCILMAN Floyd Murray, head of the finance committee, reported his group will meet tonight to start work on the 1968 appropriation ordinance. All departmental budgets now have been submitted, he said.

Councilman Edward Massey of the street committee reported a request for a new streetlight at St. George St. and Brushton Ally. It was approved. Massey also told Vodrey that when the city's mechanical sweeper resumes cleaning streets in the spring, it should be assigned to additional streets in residential areas. He said he realizes extending the sweeper's schedule might make it necessary to add a second machine.

Vodrey replied that the present schedule "crowds them to keep on time." He added that the sweeper will not function properly on streets without curbs.

Councilman Robert W. Sample asked the street committee to check on the positioning of a stop sign at the junction of Dewey Ave. and Erie St. He said the sign may be in the wrong location. He also cited the traffic hazard created by a tractor-trailer rig parked on Pennsylvania Ave., East End. It was hit twice by passing cars in a space of three days, Sample said. He said he believes the rig should be marked "by some kind of signal to warn drivers."

Murray said he has received complaints of motorists parking on the sidewalk in front of the Louthan Manufacturing Co. plant in Klondyke, forcing school children to walk in the street. He asked the police department to check on the alleged violations.

Sample reported his planning committee will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. to discuss a proposed "fair housing" ordinance. The meeting opened with invocation by Lowe. Councilman Frank Duffy, recovering from an illness, was excused.

Gas Rate

ond step of the structure will be boosted from 8.20 cents per 100 cubic feet to 8.25 cents, rather than 8.30 cents — the only change from the former legislation, the solicitor reported.

Two more readings will be required to enact the legislation. In adjourning last night, Council took no steps to set a special session to act again on the ordinance, which means it apparently will not be voted upon again until the first regular meeting of next month, March 4.

The 1966-67 Council had enacted a new four-year agreement shortly before leaving office in December. However, the new Council repealed the ordinance at its first meeting, amid indications the rate argument would be allowed to go to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission at Columbus.

KAPP TOLD Council the legislation presented last night is the result of negotiations which he conducted with Harold Sneddon, area manager of the utility. He added that approval of the ordinance will "eliminate the significant costs that would be required for the city to fight any gas rate increase" before the PUCO. He said it is his opinion that the ordinance provides "the lowest rate increase that would be established even if arbitration would be held with the PUCO."

The new ordinance continues the $2.65 monthly minimum rate for all customers. In addition, the first step in the rate structure in each of the four years is set at 30 cents per 100 cubic feet.

In the first year, the second step in the structure will be 8.10 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 238,500 cubic feet. That advances to 8.20 cents in th second year, 8.25 cents in the third year and 8.40 cents in the fourth year.

Kapp also told Council that the utility has agreed to provide on request an annual financial statement showing cost and profit figures.

Councilman Robert W. Sample moved for consideration of the ordinance, seconded by Councilman Floyd Murray. The vote was split 4-2. Sample and Murray voted "yes," along with Councilmen John Wilson and Donal Burcham. "No" votes were cast by Councilman James Lowe and Edward Massey.

ON THE next motion, to place the legislation on first reading, a 3-3 split resulted because of the absence of Councilman Frank Duffy, who is recovering from an illness.

Murray, Sample and Wilson voted "yes" and Burcham, Lowe and Massey voted "no."

President Norman Bucher, who has a voice only in case of a tie, voted in favor of the first reading.

"I think we have gained all we can," Bucher said. "Chances are we would do much worse if we went to Columbus. So I will vote for first reading."

Sample commented that he believes the proposed ordinance "is the cheapest and best for the public" that the city can obtain.

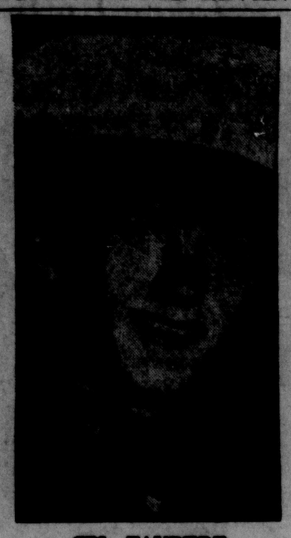

Massey commented that he believes Council "should not negotiate on any utility rates."

"I realize that if it goes to the PUCO it may cost the customers more than now," he added. "If we do negotiate, I feel the two adjoining townships should accept some of the responsibility and be here and participate becaue it affects them, too."

"If it goes to the PUCO, the two townships should help the city in the expense of the fight," Massey continued. "I feel we are taking on more than we are supposed to. I don't think this is our responsibility."

"We passed one rate ordinance," Murray commented. "The only reason I voted for this legislation was to get it before Council."

Sample then moved for suspension of the rules, seconded by Murray. But the final vote was 4-2, not enough for immediate passage. "No" votes were cast by Lowe and Massey, while "yes" votes were cast by Burcham, Murray, Sample and Wilson.

THE MAYOR said he compared 1967 figures with 1962 because that was the year in which the city income tax was raised from its former five-tenths of one per cent to the present eight-tenths of one per cent. There has been no increase in city revenue since that time, "although our costs have increased considerably," he said.

He pointed out that $127,818 was shifted from the income tax receipts in 1962 to buttress the general fund. In 1967, it was necessary to transfer $271,870 from tax receipts to the general fund, he added.

The city's present real estate tax rate is $41.20 per $1,000 valuation, of which the municipal government receives $7.70, the mayor said. But only $1.10 of the $7.70 goes into the general fund, with the balance earmarked for bond retirement, trash removal, fire and police department pensions, firemen's salaries and support of City Hospital.

Despite a $200,662 boost in expenses in 1967, compared with 1962, the revenue was up only $147,739, the mayor added.

His figures showed that real estate taxes yielded $70,278 for the general fund in 1962, but the total fell to $51,574 in 1967.

Force Now Has 2

Police Captain's Job Established

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to legislation creating a second captaincy in the police department and clearing the way for establishment of a new "administrative and staff services division" to handle such duties as personnel, training, safety and public information.

In creating the job, which will not mean any increase in the total size of the force, Council gave its stamp of approval to a proposal filed by Chief A. J. Radeschi at the Feb. 5 meeting. The chief pointed cut the additional cost to the city will be $420 annually — the difference in pay between the ranks of captain and lieutenant.

In adding the captaincy, Council cut the number of patrolmen from 21 to 20.

THE CHIEF told Council two weeks ago there has been no basic change in the organization of the police department since it was established. He said creation of the new division would "pinpoint the responsibility for many activities handled inadequately or not at all at present . . ."

The new captain's duties also would include planning and research; crime and traffic analysis; drafting of rules and regulations; maintenance of personnel records; investigation of job applicants; internal security; criminal intelligence; processing of certain types of citizens' complaints and assistance to the chief.

Dept. Capt. Kenneth Mooney is the only man on the force at present with that rank. He heads up investigative work. The department also has three lieutenants.

Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice is the only man on the Civil Service Commission's eligibility list at present for appointment as captain. If he moved up to captain, an appointment would be required to fill his post. Patrolman Paul C. Blevins at present heads the list of patrolmen on the eligibility list for lieutenant. Tice is a graduate of the FBI National Academy.

IN OTHER business, Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne presented a request to Cuncil for establishment of three more assistant chief posts in the fire department — one for each of the outlying stations on North Side, Pleasant Heghts and East End. The request was referred to the finance committee.

VanDyne told Council the action would help comply with recommendations of insurance underwriters.

He pointed out the department now is comprised of three shifts of 10 men each, including an assistant chief. He said experts advise that one officer can only supervise five subordinates effectively and efficiently.

"In our case, we are one officer short of this requirement if all of the men were operating in one station, which they are not," VanDyne told Council. "We have these men distributed in four stations with one officer, who cannot by any stretch of the imagination supervise and render necessary decisions in all four stations at the same time.

"The department now has no one to supervise routine housekeeping and maintenance duties in outlying stations," the chief said. Creation of the additional posts also would give firemen an incentive to apply themselves to their jobs "in hopes of moving up to more money and prestige," the chief said.

COUNCILMAN James Lowe asked Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey for a progress report on preparation of plans for a new sanitary sewer to serve the school complex under construction on Maine Blvd.

Vodrey replied that Engineer George Bloomgren told him three to four weeks' work remain in establishing the alignment for the sewer "after the weather breaks and the work can proceed." He said the school contractor has been advised of the location of the manhole that will be built on Maine Blvd., so that he can run a sewer from the building to connect to the new line.

The sewer originally was proposed to be built on Maine Blvd. to flow into a line on Ambrose Ave. and then into another sewer on Bradshaw Ave. After questions were raised on the capacity of the Bradshaw Ave. line, Council agreed to an alternative course for the sewer through the Beechwood area to hook onto a line in East End.

COUNCILMAN Floyd Murray, head of the finance committee, reported his group will meet tonight to start work on the 1968 appropriation ordinance. All departmental budgets now have been submitted, he said.

Councilman Edward Massey of the street committee reported a request for a new streetlight at St. George St. and Brushton Ally. It was approved. Massey also told Vodrey that when the city's mechanical sweeper resumes cleaning streets in the spring, it should be assigned to additional streets in residential areas. He said he realizes extending the sweeper's schedule might make it necessary to add a second machine.

Vodrey replied that the present schedule "crowds them to keep on time." He added that the sweeper will not function properly on streets without curbs.

Councilman Robert W. Sample asked the street committee to check on the positioning of a stop sign at the junction of Dewey Ave. and Erie St. He said the sign may be in the wrong location. He also cited the traffic hazard created by a tractor-trailer rig parked on Pennsylvania Ave., East End. It was hit twice by passing cars in a space of three days, Sample said. He said he believes the rig should be marked "by some kind of signal to warn drivers."

Murray said he has received complaints of motorists parking on the sidewalk in front of the Louthan Manufacturing Co. plant in Klondyke, forcing school children to walk in the street. He asked the police department to check on the alleged violations.

Sample reported his planning committee will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. to discuss a proposed "fair housing" ordinance. The meeting opened with invocation by Lowe. Councilman Frank Duffy, recovering from an illness, was excused.

Shafer Names Tabor As Labor Secretary

HARRISBURG (AP) — John J. Tabor, state secretary of internal affairs, was named by Gov. Shafer today as the new secretary of labor and industry.

Tabor, 46, was appointed to succeed William J. Hart, who announced his resignation Friday, effective March 1.

The switch of Tabor from his elective post to an appointive position on the governor's cabinet cleared the way for phasing out the Department of Internal Affairs.

Gas Rate

ond step of the structure will be boosted from 8.20 cents per 100 cubic feet to 8.25 cents, rather than 8.30 cents — the only change from the former legislation, the solicitor reported.

Two more readings will be required to enact the legislation. In adjourning last night, Council took no steps to set a special session to act again on the ordinance, which means it apparently will not be voted upon again until the first regular meeting of next month, March 4.

The 1966-67 Council had enacted a new four-year agreement shortly before leaving office in December. However, the new Council repealed the ordinance at its first meeting, amid indications the rate argument would be allowed to go to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission at Columbus.

KAPP TOLD Council the legislation presented last night is the result of negotiations which he conducted with Harold Sneddon, area manager of the utility. He added that approval of the ordinance will "eliminate the significant costs that would be required for the city to fight any gas rate increase" before the PUCO. He said it is his opinion that the ordinance provides "the lowest rate increase that would be established even if arbitration would be held with the PUCO."

The new ordinance continues the $2.65 monthly minimum rate for all customers. In addition, the first step in the rate structure in each of the four years is set at 30 cents per 100 cubic feet.

In the first year, the second step in the structure will be 8.10 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 298,500 cubic feet. That advances to 8.20 cents in th second year, 8.25 cents in the third year and 8.40 cents in the fourth year.

Kapp also told Council that the utility has agreed to provide on request an annual financial statement showing cost and profit figures.

Councilman Robert W. Sample moved for consideration of the ordinance, seconded by Councilman Floyd Murray. The vote was split 4-2. Sample and Murray voted "yes," along with Councilmen John Wilson and Donal Burcham. "No" votes were cast by Councilman James Lowe and Edward Massey.

ON THE next motion, to place the legislation on first reading, a 3-3 split resulted because of the absence of Councilman Frank Duffy, who is recovering from an illness.

Murray, Sample and Wilson voted "yes" and Burcham, Lowe and Massey voted "no."

President Norman Bucher, who has a voice only in case of a tie, voted in favor of the first reading.

"I think we have gained all we can," Bucher said. "Chances are we would do much worse if we went to Columbus. So I will vote for first reading."

Sample commented that he believes the proposed ordinance "is the cheapest and best for the public" that the city can obtain.

Massey commented that he believes Council "should not negotiate on any utility rates."

"I realize that if it goes to the PUCO it may cost the customers more than now," he added. "If we do negotiate, I feel the two adjoining townships should accept some of the responsibility and be here and participate becaue it affects them, too."

"If it goes to the PUCO, the two townships should help the city in the expense of the fight," Massey continued. "I feel we are taking on more than we are supposed to. I don't think this is our responsibility."

"We passed one rate ordinance," Murray commented. "The only reason I voted for this legislation was to get it before Council."

Sample then moved for suspension of the rules, seconded by Murray. But the final vote was 4-2, not enough for immediate passage. "No" votes were cast by Lowe and Massey, while "yes" votes were cast by Burcham, Murray, Sample and Wilson.

"'We are ready to move forward. All that is needed to accomplish our objectives is the necessary funds.

"I will welcome the opportunity to meet with you to discuss this problem at any time. There is an answer and we must find it — not sit back and do nothing to solve it."

THE MAYOR said he compared 1967 figures with 1962 because that was the year in which the city income tax was raised from its former five - tenths of one per cent to the present eight-tenths of one per cent. There has been no increase in city revenue since that time, "although our costs have increased considerably," he said.

He pointed out that $127,818 was shifted from the income tax receipts in 1962 to buttress the general fund. In 1967, it was necessary to transfer $271,870 from tax receipts to the general fund, he added.

The city's present real estate tax rate is $41.20 per $1,000 valuation, of which the municipal government receives $7.70, the mayor said. But only $1.10 of the $7.70 goes into the general fund, with the balance earmarked for bond retirement, trash removal, fire and police department pensions, firemen's salaries and support of City Hospital.

Despite a $200,662 boost in expenses in 1967, compared with 1962, the revenue was up only $147,739, the mayor added.

His figures showed that real estate taxes yielded $70,278 for the general fund in 1962, but the total fell to $51,574 in 1967.

Settling Public Employe Disputes

A plan of action developed and approved last October by Florida teachers has been adopted. A mass resignation of teachers, averted last fall when Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr. promised to call a special session of the legislature to take action on the issue, now is paralyzing the state's school system.

Attempts at temporary staffing and empty classrooms scattered across Florida point to the need for an effective compromise in settling public employe disputes.

Laws have been passed by 15 states making public employe strikes illegal. None, including Ohio's Ferguson Act, is effective. In most cases penalities are too harsh to be enforced.

The motive behind anti-strike legislation has been protection of the public interest.

The other side of the coin has teachers, firemen, policemen, nurses, garbagemen etc. asking: What about our interests?

In some instances, community safety and health have been sacrificed as public employes sought higher pay and better working conditions.

Labor found out a long time ago that work stoppage was its biggest weapon and it has wielded the big club effectively.

The going gets sticky when public employes use the ultimate weapon without regard to public welfare.

The union movement is in control of massive power and does not hesitate to abuse it as quickly as employers did when they were in the driver's seat.

Knowledge of mass power corruption is the reason lawmakers are picking each other's brains to come up with a compromise, rather than leave the strike door wide open and hope that reasonableness will prevail.

Legislators would like to find a path out of the maze that would provide public employes with a means of bargaining while maintaining public health and safety.

That is a tall order.

There has to be an element of control involved — perhaps a limit on the duration of a strike. It is necessary because regardless of community effort to pay a fair wage, reasonable fringe benefits and improve working conditions, there always will be someone saying it isn't enough.

Then every community would be subject to union blackmail. That is intolerable.

Legislators must come up with an equitable compromise — and soon. The alternative is hospitals without nurses, classrooms without teachers and cities without safety and sanitation forces.

The Dependables

Just about the time everyone is agreeing morals are at their nadir, patriotism is nill, religion has become too business-like, the world is falling apart and no one cares any more, people like Sara Thomas and William Parsons make everyone look a little foolish.

Miss Thomas, teacher, Chester City Park secretary and active member of various clubs and organizations, and Mr. Parsons, former pottery official, ex-board of education member and longtime church leader, have been honored by the Chester American Legion as the city's "Outstanding Citizens of te Year."

Both had been recognized by others in the community as exceptional before now, for they have been typical of the type of people who become involved, who strive to do things without expecting something in return, who don't sit around and carp about problems but try to wrk out solutions.

History is not lacking for examples of times when gloom pervaded the public outlook, when discord and dissent seemingly set the theme for prophets of pessimism.

But the stalwarts, the dependables, the real workers continued to keep things in gear for the next generation — on the national level and in the small cities such as Chester. That's why such unflappables are "outstanding" — there aren't many of them, and the consistent successes they score pile up inconspicuously until they are a monument to our own lack of participation, our own unwillingness to depend upon the fundamentals which created this nation in the first place.

Beware, The Guns

We are bug-eyed over the scope of police preparations to protect the Democratic National Convention in Chicago late next August.

No comparable rundown on strategy and tactics to wall off elements of discord when Republicans meet in Miami Beach early in August has been offered, but it must be assumed security planners will be as busy in one city as another.

They are not conjuring up danger. The threat has been made and publicized that the political establishment will be harassed severely by the same minority that has given various U.S. cities three "hot summers" and is supposedly going to make the coming one hotter.

Faced with the prospect of areas of important cities being roped off, pitched battles between police and rioters, snarling dogs, sniper fire, looting and burning, national conventioneers may lose their traditional enthusiasm.

But there could be a worse result than spoiling the fun for the conventioneers. Political conventions are regarded as essential elements in American folkways. Interference with them would assuredly backfire at the expense of the interferers.

If the idea is to make things rotten for conventioneers, the shrewd tactic would be to create tension between now and the Republican convention, which comes first, then do nothing at all in Miami Beach or Chicago. The anticlimax would be tougher to bear for conventioneers and professional politicians than a month of rioting, looting and burning.

That's a summertime way of life in big cities. Peace and order, for a change, would be sensational.

America's Nuclear Umbrella

Britain's dismal financial state is forcing Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government toward a nuclear policy that will place added responsibility on the United States.

No formal action has been taken that would signal the end of Britain's role as one of the world's five nuclear powers, but it is in the works.

Minor decisions already have been made for reshaping the country's defense policy away from stockpiling nuclear weapons and building a striking force of nuclear bombers.

The big break will come when a decision is made on the proposal to build four nuclear-powered submarines carrying American Polaris missiles with British nuclear warheads.

Mr. Wilson doesn't feel Britain can afford the multi-billion-dollar price tag on the program.

It is no secret the Labor government has opposed the Conservative view that a world nuclear power role is in the best interest of Britain.

Laborites have a strong argument when they say, first of all, Britain doesn't have the money to develop and maintain an effective nuclear force.

Second, they have made clear their belief that they would not enter a war without support of the United States, and the Americans already have a nuclear capability many times that ever dreamed of by Britain.

The awesome size of the nuclear power of America has been a powerful element in shaping the Labor government's thought to abandon its own nuclear program and place itself under the nuclear wing of the United States.

The Conservative opposition can be expected to put up a strong fight against the plan to scrap the nuclear sub armada.

If Prime Minister Wilson's forces win, it will mean that Britain and America will no longer be marching side by side but in single file, with Britain falling back.

The upstart colonialist nation will be marching at the head of the column with its former ruler back in the ranks. The forward position carries with it a burdensome, frightening responsibility.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I have just returned home after visiting in East Liverpool for a few days.

There is a member of my family in the City Hospital there.

I must write to say I have never been so disgusted with the general appearance of a hospital as I have just seen going through the front doors of yours.

I realize the weather has been sloppy, but it was very apparent that the floors had not had a coat of wax for many months, not to mention the peeling paint on the walls and shabby waiting room on the first floor.

That was only the beginning. After seeing the patient crowded into a room designed for one, with two other patients, I was heartsick. No bathrooms or sink, let alone phones, closets or TV.

I would say the hospital administrators or community in general of East Liverpool should take a long look at their City Hospital. It is truly a disgrace to the city.

In Warren, we have beautiful hospitals and even though there are some old sections of them in use, they are neatly kept and spotlessly clean. Believe me, I have never really appreciated them until now.

I know most of your hospital is old, but why should it be ignored and not be kept clean and painted? I can't imagine anyone being able to get well quickly in those depressing surroundings.

MARTHA ADKINS
Warren

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I want to write a few lines to express my deep gratitude to the nurses, aides and others connected with City Hospital.

Also to Rev. Allen Conway and members of the First Methodist Church who visited me regularly the past months in the hospital and made my stay so bearable and pleasant.

Not a resident of your area, I never knew I would have such royal treatment and meet so many wonderful people. I have traveled through East Liverpool for the past 14 years, never dreaming I would spend seven months in City Hospital.

I was fortunate enough to get a doctor who in my opinion is a genius with his hands. I am deeply indebted to him and the other physician for saving my leg.

I am transferring to my home town hospital at Fairmont, W. Va. There I will be with my family and undergo therapy to walk again. In my heart I will never forget the kindness bestowed to me here. And some day in the near future I will walk in and say hello to all.

Hoffa's Birthday In Prison

WASHINGTON — The Friday Flyer, a newspaper with a truly captive audience, did a rave review of a performance the other day—namely that of No. 33298, code number for a chap who resides right smack in its limited circulation area—the Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary.

Since 33298 is Jimmy Hoffa, it is fascinating to read that he held the crowd "spellbound" with a 45-minute oration on automation, cybernetics, poverty, the need for a guaranteed income "and what will happen in the year 2,000 if we don't get with it."

So the word is that as "Jimmy H." rounds out his first year in prison he's doing what comes naturally—speaking, debating, advising his new rank and file, becoming theoretician and big brother to a lot of young convicts.

He spent his 55th birthday inside the big walls on St. Valentines's Day — mostly forgotten by all but his family, a few lawyers and some fellows who write speeches for the Brotherhood's acting president, Frank Fitzsimmons.

It's a different "Jimmy." He doesn't lose his temper — neither in the big clothing hall, nor while grinding up old mattresses, nor when sorting shoes sent in by the Leavenworth footwear division of Federal Prison Industries, on the board of which sits AFL-CIO President George Meany.

IT IS A STRICT 40 hour week and Hoffa, the $2,000-a-week Teamsters president on involuntary leave, has lots of time to read in his one-man, 8 by 10 foot, cot and commode-fitted cell.

He has devised his own effective intelligence system. Thus he knows what's happening inside the sprawling Teamsters union—and its officers know what he's thinking and wanting.

Regardless of what they say publicly, most Teamsters leaders privately could not care less.

They're doing very well without him. And it's the code of the jungle he built and stocked that the tough, handsomely muscled little man is finished.

He personally hammered out the creed — out of power is out of mind.

Slowly his old retinue, while burying him in resounding rhetoric, is revamping the Brotherhood.

With their latest affiliation, the Bakery and Confectionery Workers, the Teamsters now are actually an independent labor federation. Last November they reported a membership of 1,875,903, and are now edging close to the incredible total of two million.

ANALYSIS OF THE records reveals that at least 200,000 dues payers were drawn in since Hoffa was handcuffed last March 7 and driven off to Lewisburg by three federal marshals.

It takes no magic. Just money and manpower. It's the latest thing in automation. It's the mark of today's society.

Little over a year ago, it was Jimmy Hoffa's hand which was pumped in Washington's best restaurants by Washington's prestigious ones, and Frank Fitzsimmons was "what's his name, that fellow in Detroit." Today it's Fitz's hand which is sought by the table-hopping crowd. It's the office which makes the man.

Furthermore, as time storms on, and Hoffa becomes the Friday Flyer's best news story and the daily press's forgotten man, the Teamsters are surer of themselves and their new image.

No longer are they furtively seeking a way into the "House of Labor"—the AFL-CIO. For the moment, they're enjoying the cool which filled the vacuum when "Jimmy" took the heat with him to prison.

"Why should we rush into the AFL-CIO," one of their vice presidents asked a visiting newsman the other day. "We would have to pay $1,575,840 a year in per capita dues to Meany's office. We can get on with him personally. But a million and a half is a lot of money just to sit in one of their natioinal conventions.

"ACTUALLY THEY CAN'T do much for us. So we may wait until they ask us. If they do and we come in, they'll have well over 16 million members, the biggest federation in the free world. So we'll wait. We're in no hurry now."

Especially since the Brotherhod is rolling into a hundred fields which the AFL-CIO claims as its jurisdiction.

It's not publicly realized but some 900,000 Teamsters (or about half the membership) are not truck drivers. They're in the white collar field, in radio stations, on movie lots, as well as in thousands of industrial plants. If the Teamsters were to return to the AFL-CIO they'd virtually have to stop organizing.

Otherwise they'd be raiding their newfound brethren. The Brotherhood now is aiming for three million. So they're happy—piling up a billion dollars in "loanable" pension funds; building vast projects; raiding other territory.

As for little Jimmy Hoffa, he'll be in some nine years unless paroled which is unlikely. But if he is, he must pledge to stay clear of labor. This he'll do to get out. But certainly he'll not get the chance to pledge anything until after the next Teamster convention in 1971.

So, it could not have been a very pleasant St. Valentine's Day for the man who only a year ago was a free world's most powerful labor leader.

Viet Atrocities

A few days ago the American people were shocked to see on the front pages of their newspapers a photograph showing the South Vietnamese police chief, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan, in the act of shooting a prisoner on the streets of Saigon.

It was explained that, although in civilian clothes, the victim was an officer of the Viet Cong forces engaged in the attack on Saigon. Gen. Loan said: "They killed many Americans and many of my men."

The execution was widely condemned as inhumane, though there had been news reports previously of similar shootings by the Communists in the capital city, primarily the murder of the families or relatives of government officials.

On the day before the episode in Saigon, six American missionaries operating a hospital in a remote area of South Vietnam were slain by the Viet Cong. No pictures are available, but what happened is described in a letter, dated Feb. 5, written from Formosa to this correspondent by Charles E. Notson of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. He writes:

"IN A BRUTAL and vicious attack the Viet Cong have massacred the entire staff of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Leprosarium in Banmethout. In a cold-blooded, premeditated mass murder they have deprived their countrymen afflicted with the dread disease—leprosy—of have loving care and skillful treatment by dedicated missionaries.

"Here is a vivid illustration of the heartless cruelty that is characteristic of all Communism. It was not a case of these troops not knowing what the foreigners were doing there in that mountain station. On May 30, 1962, they had perpetrated a raid on the leprosarium and had taken captive three missionaries: the hospital administrator, Rev. Archie Mitchell, Dr. Ardell Vietti, and a volunteer male nurse of the Mennonite Church, Dan Gerber. Then they warned the other members of the hospital staff to get out and stay out of Banmenthout.

"Fully aware of the hazard involved in ignoring a Viet Cong order, the missionaries continued their ministry of mercy and love. They would not desert the helpless patients, even though they continued at the risk of their lives in that exposed outpost. After all, they were obeying orders from a higher authority than the Viet Cong.

"In the intervening years the hospital staff has been aware that every move was being watched. Because the Communists did not further molest the hospital, they assumed that even the Viet Cong had come to respect such a ministry, and comforted with that thought they persisted in their task.

"What advocate of Communism can step forth in an attempt to justify this foul deed? How can anyone further argue that the struggle in Vietnam is a civil war? It is not against their fellow countrymen in the South that the Viet Cong are fighting, but, like all Communists, they are animated by a perverted hatred of all that is good and all that is righteous. Their war is against humanity and against the creator of mankind. How many more such tragic examples of this infamous concept do we need to observe before we close our ranks and begin to deliver the concerted blows necessary to break its power?

"THIS WAS NO act of war when with malicious aforethought and intent the Communists killed Bob Siemer, Ed and Ruth Thompson, Ruth Wilting, Carolyn Griswold and Carolyn's father who was on a visit, wounded Marie Ziemer and captured Betty Olsen. In calculated cowardice these rabid devotees of a heinous doctrine have attacked unarmed and unresisting messengers of mercy. In so doing they have revealed their true colors once more. The blood of these heroic dead cries for judgment. Let men of conscience respond."

An army chaplain reported that all of the mission buildings, including the leprosarium, were "totally obliterated," but the fate of its 2,000 patients is unknown.

The massacre of the missionaries serves to emphasize the horrible nature of the war in Vietnam and the improbability of bringing order to the country without increasing the number of American and Allied troops now engaged in the conflict.

Settling Public Employe Disputes

A plan of action developed and approved last October by Florida teachers has been adopted. A mass resignation of teachers, averted last fall when Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr. promised to call a special session of the legislature to take action on the issue, now is paralyzing the state's school system.

Attempts at temporary staffing and empty classrooms scattered across Florida point to the need for an effectve compromise in settling public employe disputes.

Laws have been passed by 15 states making public employe strikes illegal. None, including Ohio's Ferguson Act, is effective. In most cases penalities are too harsh to be enforced.

The motive behind anti-strike legislation has been protection of the public interest.

The other side of the coin has teachers, firemen, policemen, nurses, garbagemen etc. asking: What about our interests?

In some instances, community safety and health have been sacrificed as public employes sought higher pay and better working conditions.

Labor found out a long time ago that work stoppage was its biggest weapon and it has wielded the big club effectively.

The going gets sticky when public employes use the ultimate weapon without regard to public welfare.

The union movement is in control of massive power and does not hesitate to abuse it as quickly as employers did when they were in the driver's seat.

Knowledge of mass power corruption is the reason lawmakers are picking each other's brains to come up with a compromise, rather than leave the strike door wide open and hope that reasonableness will prevail.

Legislators would like to find a path out of the maze that would provide public employes with a means of bargaining while maintaining public health and safety.

That is a tall order.

There has to be an element of control involved — perhaps a limit on the duration of a strike. It is necessary because regardless of community effort to pay a fair wage, reasonable fringe benefits and improve working conditions, there always will be someone saying it isn't enough.

Then every community would be subject to union blackmail. That is intolerable.

Legislators must come up with an equitable compromise — and soon. The alternative is hospitals without nurses, classrooms without teachers and cities without safety and sanitation forces.

The Dependables

Just about the time everyone is agreeing morals are at their nadir, patriotism is nill, religion has become too business-like, the world is falling apart and no one cares any more, people like Sara Thomas and William Parsons make everyone look a little foolish.

Miss Thomas, teacher, Chester City Park secretary and active member of various clubs and organizations, and Mr. Parsons, former pottery official, ex-board of education member and longtime church leader, have been honored by the Chester American Legion as the city's "Outstanding Citizens of te Year."

Both had been recognized by others in the community as exceptional before now, for they have been typical of the type of people who become involved, who strive to do things without expecting something in return, who don't sit around and carp about problems but try to wrk out solutions.

History is not lacking for examples of times when gloom pervaded the public outlook, when discord and dissent seemingly set the theme for prophets of pessimism.

But the stalwarts, the dependables, the real workers continued to keep things in gear for the next generation — on the national level and in the small cities such as Chester. That's why such unflappables are "outstanding" — there aren't many of them, and the consistent successes they score pile up inconspicuously until they are a monument to our own lack of participation, our own unwillingness to depend upon the fundamentals which created this nation in the first place.

Beware, The Guns

We are bug-eyed over the scope of police preparations to protect the Democratic National Convention in Chicago late next August.

No comparable rundown on strategy and tactics to wall off elements of discord when Republicans meet in Miami Beach early in August has been offered, but it must be assumed security planners will be as busy in one city as another.

They are not conjuring up danger. The threat has been made and publicized that the political establishment will be harassed severely by the same minority that has given various U.S. cities three "hot summers" and is supposedly going to make the coming one hotter.

Faced with the prospect of areas of important cities being roped off, pitched battles between police and rioters, snarling dogs, sniper fire, looting and burning, national conventioneers may lose their traditional enthusiasm.

But there could be a worse result than spoiling the fun for the conventioneers. Political conventions are regarded as essential elements in American folkways. Interference with them would assuredly backfire at the expense of the interferers.

If the idea is to make things rotten for conventioneers, the shrewd tactic would be to create tension between now and the Republican convention, which comes first, then do nothing at all in Miami Beach or Chicago. The anticlimax would be tougher to bear for conventioneers and professional politicians than a month of rioting, looting and burning.

That's a summertime way of life in big cities. Peace and order, for a change, would be sensational.

America's Nuclear Umbrella

Britain's dismal financial state is forcing Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government toward a nuclear policy that will place added responsibility on the United States.

No formal action has been taken that would signal the end of Britain's role as one of the world's five nuclear powers, but it is in the works.

Minor decisions already have been made for reshaping the country's defense policy away from stockpiling nuclear weapons and building a striking force of nuclear bombers.

The big break will come when a decision is made on the proposal to build four nuclear-powered submarines carrying American Polaris missiles with British nuclear warheads.

Mr. Wilson doesn't feel Britain can afford the multi-billion-dollar price tag on the program.

It is no secret the Labor government has opposed the Conservative view that a world nuclear power role is in the best interest of Britain.

Laborites have a strong argument when they say, first of all, Britain doesn't have the money to develop and maintain an effective nuclear force.

Second, they have made clear their belief that they would not enter a war without support of the United States, and the Americans already have a nuclear capability many times that ever dreamed of by Britain.

The awesome size of the nuclear power of America has been a powerful element in shaping the Labor government's thought to abandon its own nuclear program and place itself under the nuclear wing of the United States.

The Conservative opposition can be expected to put up a strong fight against the plan to scrap the nuclear sub armada.

If Prime Minister Wilson's forces win, it will mean that Britain and America will no longer be marching side by side but in single file, with Britain falling back.

The upstart colonialist nation will be marching at the head of the column with its former ruler back in the ranks. The forward position carries with it a burdensome, frightening responsibility.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I have just returned home after visiting in East Liverpool for a few days.

There is a member of my family in the City Hospital there.

I must write to say I have never been so disgusted with the general appearance of a hospital as I have just seen going through the front doors of yours.

I realize the weather has been sloppy, but it was very apparent that the floors had not had a coat of wax for many months, not to mention the peeling paint on the walls and shabby waiting room on the first floor.

That was only the beginning. After seeing the patient crowded into a room designed for one, with two other patients, I was heartsick. No bathrooms or sink, let alone phones, closets or TV.

I would say the hospital administrators or community in general of East Liverpool should take a long look at their City Hospital. It is truly a disgrace to the city.

In Warren, we have beautiful hospitals and even though there are some old sections of them in use, they are neatly kept and spotlessly clean. Believe me, I have never really appreciated them until now.

I know most of your hospital is old, but why should it be ignored and not be kept clean and painted? I can't imagine anyone being able to get well quickly in those depressing surroundings.

MARTHA ADKINS

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I want to write a few lines to express my deep gratitude to the nurses, aides and others connected with City Hospital.

Also to Rev. Allen Conway and members of the First Methodist Church who visited me regularly the past months in the hospital and made my stay so bearable and pleasant.

Not a resident of your area, I never knew I would have such royal treatment and meet so many wonderful people. I have traveled through East Liverpool for the past 14 years, never dreaming I would spend seven months in City Hospital.

I was fortunate enough to get a doctor who in my opinion is a genius with his hands. I am deeply indebted to him and the other physician for saving my leg.

I am transferring to my home town hospital at Fairmont, W. Va. There I will be with my family and undergo therapy to walk again. In my heart I will never forget the kindness bestowed to me here. And some day in the near future I will walk in and say hello to all.

Hoffa's Birthday In Prison

WASHINGTON — The Friday Flyer, a newspaper with a truly captive audience, did a rave review of a performance the other day—namely that of No. 33298, code number for a chap who resides right smack in its limited circulation area—the Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary.

Since 33298 is Jimmy Hoffa, it is fascinating to read that he held the crowd "spellbound" with a 45-minute oration on automation, cybernetics, poverty, the need for a guaranteed income "and what will happen in the year 2,000 if we don't get with it."

So the word is that as "Jimmy H." rounds out his first year in prison he's doing what comes naturally—speaking, debating, advising his new rank and file, becoming theoretician and big brother to a lot of young convicts.

He spent his 55th birthday inside the big walls on St. Valentines's Day — mostly forgotten by all but his family, a few lawyers and some fellows who write speeches for the Brotherhood's acting president, Frank Fitzsimmons.

It's a different "Jimmy." He doesn't lose his temper — neither in the big clothing hall, nor while grinding up old mattresses, nor when sorting shoes sent in by the Leavenworth footwear division of Federal Prison Industries, on the board of which sits AFL-CIO President George Meany.

IT IS A STRICT 40 hour week and Hoffa, the $2,000-a-week Teamsters president on involuntary leave, has lots of time to read in his one-man, 8 by 10 foot, cot and commode-fitted cell.

He has devised his own effective intelligence system. Thus he knows what's happening inside the sprawling Teamsters union—and its officers know what he's thinking and wanting.

Regardless of what they say publicly, most Teamsters leaders privately could not care less.

They're doing very well without him. And it's the code of the jungle he built and stocked that the tough, handsomely muscled little man is finished.

He personally hammered out the creed — out of power is out of mind.

Slowly his old retinue, while burying him in resounding rhetoric, is revamping the Brotherhood.

With their latest affiliation, the Bakery and Confectionery Workers, the Teamsters now are actually an independent labor federation. Last November they reported a membership of 1,875,903, and are now edging close to the incredible total of two million.

ANALYSIS OF THE records reveals that at least 200,000 dues payers were drawn in since Hoffa was handcuffed last March 7 and driven off to Lewisburg by three federal marshals.

It takes no magic. Just money and manpower. It's the latest thing in automation. It's the mark of today's society.

Little over a year ago, it was Jimmy Hoffa's hand which was pumped in Washington's best restaurants by Washington's prestigious ones, and Frank Fitzsimmons was "what's his name, that fellow in Detroit." Today it's Fitz's hand which is sought by the table-hopping crowd. It's the office which makes the man.

Furthermore, as time storms on, and Hoffa becomes the Friday Flyer's best news story and the daily press's forgotten man, the Teamsters are surer of themselves and their new image.

No longer are they furtively seeking a way into the "House of Labor"—the AFL-CIO. For the moment, they're enjoying the cool which filled the vacuum when "Jimmy" took the heat with him to prison.

"Why should we rush into the AFL-CIO," one of their vice presidents asked a visiting newsman the other day. "We would have to pay $1,575,840 a year in per capita dues to Meany's office. We can get on with him personally. But a million and a half is a lot of money just to sit in one of their natioinal conventions.

"ACTUALLY THEY CAN'T do much for us. So we may wait until they ask us. If they do and we come in, they'll have well over 16 million members, the biggest federation in the free world. So we'll wait. We're in no hurry now."

Especially since the Brotherhod is rolling into a hundred fields which the AFL-CIO claims as its jurisdiction.

It's not publicly realized but some 900,000 Teamsters (or about half the membership) are not truck drivers. They're in the white collar field, in radio stations, on movie lots, as well as in thousands of industrial plants. If the Teamsters were to return to the AFL-CIO they'd virtually have to stop organizing.

Otherwise they'd be raiding their newfound brethren. The Brotherhood now is aiming for three million. So they're happy—piling up a billion dollars in "loanable" pension funds; building vast projects; raiding other territory.

As for little Jimmy Hoffa, he'll be in some nine years unless paroled which is unlikely. But if he is, he must pledge to stay clear of labor. This he'll do to get out. But certainly he'll not get the chance to pledge anything until after the next Teamster convention in 1971.

So, it could not have been a very pleasant St. Valentine's Day for the man who only a year ago was a free world's most powerful labor leader.

Viet Atrocities

A few days ago the American people were shocked to see on the front pages of their newspapers a photograph showing the South Vietnamese police chief, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan, in the act of shooting a prisoner on the streets of Saigon.

It was explained that, although in civilian clothes, the victim was an officer of the Viet Cong forces engaged in the attack on Saigon. Gen. Loan said: "They killed many Americans and many of my men."

The execution was widely condemned as inhumane, though there had been news reports previously of similar shootings by the Communists in the capital city, primarily the murder of the families or relatives of government officials.

On the day before the episode in Saigon, six American missionaries operating a hospital in a remote area of South Vietnam were slain by the Viet Cong. No pictures are available, but what happened is described in a letter, dated Feb. 5, written from Formosa to this correspondent by Charles E. Notson of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. He writes:

"IN A BRUTAL and vicious attack the Viet Cong have massacred the entire staff of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Leprosarium in Banmethout. In a cold-blooded, premeditated mass murder they have deprived their countrymen afflicted with the dread disease—leprosy—of have loving care and skillful treatment by dedicated missionaries.

"Here is a vivid illustration of the heartless cruelty that is characteristic of all Communism. It was not a case of these troops not knowing what the foreigners were doing there in that mountain station. On May 30, 1962, they had perpetrated a raid on the leprosarium and had taken captive three missionaries: the hospital administrator, Rev. Archie Mitchell, Dr. Ardell Vietti, and a volunteer male nurse of the Mennonite Church, Dan Gerber. Then they warned the other members of the hospital staff to get out and stay out of Banmenthout.

"Fully aware of the hazard involved in ignoring a Viet Cong order, the missionaries continued their ministry of mercy and love. They would not desert the helpless patients, even though they continued at the risk of their lives in that exposed outpost. After all, they were obeying orders from a higher authority than the Viet Cong.

"In the intervening years the hospital staff has been aware that every move was being watched. Because the Communists did not further molest the hospital, they assumed that even the Viet Cong had come to respect such a ministry, and comforted with that thought they persisted in their task.

"What advocate of Communism can step forth in an attempt to justify this foul deed? How can anyone further argue that the struggle in Vietnam is a civil war? It is not against their fellow countrymen in the South that the Viet Cong are fighting, but, like all Communists, they are animated by a perverted hatred of all that is good and all that is righteous. Their war is against humanity and against the creator of mankind. How many more such tragic examples of this infamous concept do we need to observe before we close our ranks and begin to deliver the concerted blows necessary to break its power?

"THIS WAS NO act of war when with malicious aforethought and intent the Communists killed Bob Siemer, Ed and Ruth Thompson, Ruth Wilting, Carolyn Griswold and Carolyn's father who was on a visit, wounded Marie Ziemer and captured Betty Olsen. In calculated cowardice these rabid devotees of a heinous doctrine have attacked unarmed and unresisting messengers of mercy. In so doing they have revealed their true colors once more. The blood of these heroic dead cries for judgment. Let men of conscience respond."

An army chaplain reported that all of the mission buildings, including the leprosarium, were "totally obliterated," but the fate of its 2,000 patients is unknown.

The massacre of the missionaries serves to emphasize the horrible nature of the war in Vietnam and the improbability of bringing order to the country without increasing the number of American and Allied troops now engaged in the conflict.

Gen. Pershing's Grandson Killed In Viet Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Army Lt. Richard W. Pershing, 24-year-old grandson of Gen. of the Armies John J. Pershing, has been killed in action in Vietnam.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Warren Pershing, reported the death Monday.

Pershing died Feb. 17 from what the telegram of notification described as "wounds received on a combat operation when he came under hostile small-arms and rocket attack while searching for remains of a missing member of his unit."

Pershing, whose father is a stockbroker, went to Vietnam Dec. 13 with the 101st Airborne Division. His grandfather, who commanded the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I, died in 1948 at the age of 88.

against Miller for the Republican nomination for mayor last May.

THE FILING deadline affected candidates for the U.S. congressional seat from the Eastern Ohio district, as well as delegates and alternates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and candidates for men and women members of the two parties' state central committees.

The deadline brought no change in the alignment of Democratic aspirants for the congressional seat, in which Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing in Belmont County is seeking his 11th term. He is opposed by Nick B. Karnick, 42, of Steubenville, who works as an investigator. Karnick, who ran unsuccessfully previously for several Jefferson County and Steubenville posts, filed against Hays last week.

Dr. J. F. Sutherland of Martins Ferry, a physician,, was left unopposed as the Republican candidate for the congressional seat. He received his medical degree in 1952 from the University of Pennsylvania. Married and the father of three, he served in World War II with the Navy and again from 1955 to 1957 as a lieutenant commander in the Medical Corps.

Mrs. Isabelle Chaney of Cadiz was left unopposed for a second term as GOP state central committeewoman. She was named two years ago to succeed Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem.

DON R. GOSNEY of Columbiana, the incumbent Democratic state committeeman, is bidding for a new term, opposed by Daniel T. Lehigh, a New Philadelphia attorney who sought the same post unsuccessfully two years ago. Lehigh also has served as an assistant Ohio attorney general.

Miss Esther F. Pinsky of Bellaire, an attorney, is unopposed for a new term as the Democratic committeewoman, a post she has held for many years.

Each major party also has filed an unopposed slate of district delegates to the presidential nominating conventions late this summer, pledged to "favorite" candidates.

The GOP delegate candidates are Charles A. Pike, Lisbon attorney, and Walter L. Myers Jr. of Steubenville. The candidates for alternate are Bell and Mrs. Chaney. The slate is pledged to Gov. James A. Rhodes as "favorite son" candidate.

The Democratic district delegate candidates are Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman, and Howard Mercer of New Philadelphia. Candidates for alternate are Robert Price of Wintersville RD 3 and James W. Inzetta of Barnesville.

The Democratic slate is pledged to U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young as "favorite son"" candidate.

fices were required to file by Feb. 7. But entries in the congressional districts throughout Ohio were delayed until yesterday because the districts were realigned late in January by the General Assembly.

The 18th District now is comprised of Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont counties and all except one township in Tuscarawas County. Candidates file with the local board because Columbiana County is the ""most populous" in the district.

Former major league outfielder Danny Litwhiler is president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches for 1968. He coaches the sport at Michigan State.

Deaths and Funerals

John Komara

John A. Komara, 47, of 2022 Chester Ave., Wellsville, died suddenly at a doctor's office Monday afternoon at 3:10 after an apparent heart attack.

He was born at Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 25, 1921, a son of Mrs. Iva Goodman Komara of Templeton, Calif., and the late Alex Komara.

Gen. Pershing's Grandson Killed In Viet Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Army Lt. Richard W. Pershing, 24-year-old grandson of Gen. of the Armies John J. Pershing, has been killed in action in Vietnam.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Warren Pershing, reported the death Monday.

Pershing died Feb. 17 from what the telegram of notification described as "wounds received on a combat operation when he came under hostile small-arms and rocket attack while searching for remains of a missing member of his unit."

Pershing, whose father is a stockbroker, went to Vietnam Dec. 13 with the 101st Airborne Division. His grandfather, who commanded the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I, died in 1948 at the age of 88.

Congress

against Miller for the Republican nomination for mayor last May.

—:—

THE FILING deadline affected candidates for the U.S. congressional seat from the Eastern Ohio district, as well as delegates and alternates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and candidates for men and women members of the two parties' state central committees.

The deadline brought no change in the alignment of Democratic aspirants for the congessional seat, in which Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing in Belmont County is seeking his 11th term. He is opposed by Nick B. Karnick, 42, of Steubenville, who works as an investigator. Karnick, who ran unsuccessfully previously for several Jefferson County and Steubenville posts, filed against Hays last week.

Dr. J. F. Sutherland of Martins Ferry, a physician,, was left unopposed as the Republican candidate for the congressional seat. He received his medical degree in 1952 from the University of Pennsylvania. Married and the father of three, he served in World War II with the Navy and again from 1955 to 1957 as a lieutenant commander in the Medical Corps.

Mrs. Isabelle Chaney of Cadiz was left unopposed for a second term as GOP state central committeewoman. She was named two years ago to succeed Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem.

DON R. GOSNEY of Columbiana, the incumbent Democratic state committeeman, is bidding for a new term, opposed by Daniel T. Lehigh, a New Philadelphia attorney who sought the same post unsuccessfully two years ago. Lehigh also has served as an assistant Ohio attorney general.

Miss Esther F. Pinsky of Bellaire, an attorney, is unopposed for a new term as the Democratic committeewoman, a post she has held for many years.

Each major party also has filed an unopposed slate of district delegates to the presidential nominating conventions late this summer, pledged to "favorite" candidates.

The GOP delegate candidates are Charles A. Pike, Lisbon attorney, and Walter L. Myers Jr. of Steubenville. The candidates for alternate are Bell and Mrs. Chaney. The slate is pledged to Gov. James A. Rhodes as "favorite son" candidate.

The Democratic district delegate candidates are Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman, and Howard Mercer of New Philadelphia. Candidates for alternate are Robert Price of Wintersville RD 3 and James W. Inzetta of Barnesville.

The Democratic slate is pledged to U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young as "favorite son'" candidate.

fices were required to file by Feb. 7. But entries in the congressional districts throughout Ohio were delayed until yesterday because the districts were realigned late in January by the General Assembly.

The 18th District now is comprised of Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont counties and all except one township in Tuscarawas County. Candidates file with the local board because Columbiana County is the "'most populous" in the district.

Former major league outfielder Danny Litwhiler is president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches for 1968. He coaches the sport at Michigan State.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: We have been very interested in many of your recent columns on starching. As our company makes a number of popular brands of starch and likes to have satisfied customers, we have done considerable research on how starches are best used.

First of all, women should realize there are two sets of variables — price and finish desired!

In a somewhat ascending price and convenience scale there are the dry (to be cooked), the dry (to be mixed with hot water), the instant cold water starch, liquid starches, and new spray starches. Each has its virtues and devoted users.

As to the finish desired — the cooked and hot water types of starches are best for stiff-colors-and-shirts results.

Although, of course, they can be diluted and made to produce a lighter stiffness especially desirable on such as aprons.

Instant cold water starch produces a more moderate, crisp, pliable finish which is nice for most family washes. It can also be poured into the washer right out of the box with no pre-cooking or mixing. The washer seems to see to it that the starch is evenly ditributed and therefore there are no spots from the starch. Liquid starches are more convenient for washing machine use but are heavier to tote and cost more.

Spray starches are even more convenient but even we do not recommend using them for the whole wash from sheets to shirts, to dresses and aprons — too expensive for that! But they are wonderful and practical indeed for small things.

Spray starch can be sprayed and then ironed for crisping of collars, cuffs and to press out wrinkles in skirts and so forth.

A word about "seasoning":

Dry your articles; then sprinkle and leave in a dampened condition several hours before ironing. This is to assure even dampness. Starched items which are semi-dried (to the ready-to-iron-stage) in a dryer do not need to be held and seasoned since they are evenly moist.

And you are quite right in telling your readers that more starch is needed to obtain the same results when using a dryer. Fortunately, starch is so inexpensive this hardly matters.

You were also right that starch not only imparts a pleasing finish to fabrics but it actually makes for easier soil removal.

The starch sort of keeps the dirt and grime on the surface — locks out dirt — so that it is washed off of, not out of material!

SUSANNE ARMSTRONG
PRODUCT COUNSELOR.

-:-

Ladies, Suzanne has some advice we should remember when buying and using starch. Thanks to her and her company's research efforts.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If your sewing machine is sewing incorrectly, the tension probably needs adjusting.

The lower bobbin could be too loose or the upper thread could be too loose or too tight.

If you put a dark colored thread on the bottom and a white spool of thread on top of the machine, then use a neutral color of material, you can easily see which tension is too tight!

If the top tension is too loose you will easily see the thread come through. If the bottom tenion is too lose it will be otherwise.

As a seamstress who sews daily for a living in a factory, I would like to tell you this is how my boss tests his machines for perfect stitching! The housewife could also use this method.

One can see the stitches plainly whether she wears bifocals or not.

SO-I-TOLD!.

-:-

I'm sure glad somebody did. . . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband invented this tip for always having a dry measuring spoon for instant coffee.

When we buy coffee in large jars, he pours half of the new coffee into an empty jar. Then there's room to keep the measuring spoon right in the jar which we are using.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: We have been very interested in many of your recent columns on starching. As our company makes a number of popular brands of starch and likes to have satisfied customers, we have done considerable research on how starches are best used.

First of all, women should realize there are two sets of variables — price and finish desired!

In a somewhat ascending price and convenience scale there are the dry (to be cooked), the dry (to be mixed with hot water), the instant cold water starch, liquid starches, and new spray starches. Each has its virtues and devoted users.

As to the finish desired — the cooked and hot water types of starches are best for stiff-colors-and-shirts results.

Although, of course, they can be diluted and made to produce a lighter stiffness especially desirable on such as aprons.

Instant cold water starch produces a more moderate, crisp, pliable finish which is nice for most family washes. It can also be poured into the washer right out of the box with no pre-cooking or mixing. The washer seems to see to it that the starch is evenly ditributed and therefore there are no spots from the starch. Liquid starches are more convenient for washing machine use but are heavier to tote and cost more.

Spray starches are even more convenient but even we do not recommend using them for the whole wash from sheets to shirts, to dresses and aprons — too expensive for that! But they are wonderful and practical indeed for small things.

Spray starch can be sprayed and then ironed for crisping of collars, cuffs and to press out wrinkles in skirts and so forth.

A word about "seasoning":

Dry your articles; then sprinkle and leave in a dampened condition several hours before ironing. This is to assure even dampness. Starched items which are semi-dried (to the ready-to-iron-stage) in a dryer do not need to be held and seasoned since they are evenly moist.

And you are quite right in telling your readers that more starch is needed to obtain the same results when using a dryer. Fortunately, starch is so inexpensive this hardly matters.

You were also right that starch not only imparts a pleasing finish to fabrics but it actually makes for easier soil removal.

The starch sort of keeps the dirt and grime on the surface — locks out dirt — so that it is washed off of, not out of material!

Ladies, Suzanne has some advice we should remember when buying and using starch. Thanks to her and her company's research efforts.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If your sewing machine is sewing incorrectly, the tension probably needs adjusting.

The lower bobbin could be too loose or the upper thread could be too loose or too tight.

If you put a dark colored thread on the bottom and a white spool of thread on top of the machine, then use a neutral color of material, you can easily see which tension is too tight!

If the top tension is too loose you will easily see the thread come through. If the bottom tenion is too lose it will be otherwise.

As a seamstress who sews daily for a living in a factory, I would like to tell you this is how my boss tests his machines for perfect stitching! The housewife could also use this method.

One can see the stitches plainly whether she wears bifocals or not.

SO-I-TOLD!.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband invented this tip for always having a dry measuring spoon for instant coffee.

When we buy coffee in large jars, he pours half of the new coffee into an empty jar. Then there's room to keep the measuring spoon right in the jar which we are using.

brakes in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid striking the barricade at the Ohio side.

"I had never seen it before and I did not realize how low it was," he told the court.

"You have my sympathy," the judge told Morris. "But we have to enforce this load limit. We do not want a tragedy here such as occurred at the Silver Bridge."

Traffic was tied up for more than 1½ hours as a wrecker crew worked to free the truck from the bent and twisted beams which supported a height sign and flasher lights.

The beams and lights will be replaced shortly, highway department officals said, but until the barrier is erected, two watchmen will take turns guarding the Ohio approach on a 24-hour basis.

—:—

THE BEAMS and lights have to be obtained throught the Division office at New Philadelphia, but it is hoped the barrier will be up again by the weekend.

The barriers were erected Feb. 8 to prevent trucks and buses from crossing the span.

The load limit was set in January at the recommendation of engineers who discovered corrosion in the cables of the 70-year-old bridge.

Highway officials at Columbus are awaiting a written report from the engineering firm of Modjeski and Masters of Harrisburg concerning their inspection. It is anticipated auxiliary cable will be strung to give additional support.

A small trailer being pulled by an auto hit the barrier on the Chester side of the bridge the day the beams were first erected. A bakery truck became lodged under the barrier on the Chester side Saturday morning.

Trustees Air Tree Removal

Removal of trees, blocking the view of motorists along a section of the Cannons Mills Rd., Glenmoor, was discussed by St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

The county engineer's office will be contacted to determine the right-of-way on the road between former Route 267 and the former Y. O. Rd. The trees are close to the road and are a hazard, trustees said.

The trustees set a deadline of two weeks for payment of outstanding fees for the 1967 blacktopping program. The total due is $734. Some residents of Milton Rd., Moore St. and Wyoming Ave. have failed to pay. If they do not meet the deadline, the county auditor will be instructed to place the collection on the real estate tax duplicate.

Complaints of parking problems were received from residents of Hamilton Ave. in the Substation area and Staunton Ave. and Florence St. in Glenmoor. Trustees also issued a warning against vandalism of traffic signs. Violators will be prosecuted.

The trustees will meet again Monday night.

brakes in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid striking the barricade at the Ohio side.

"I had never seen it before and I did not realize how low it was," he told the court.

"You have my sympathy," the judge told Morris. "But we have to enforce this load limit. We do not want a tragedy here such as occurred at the Silver Bridge."

Traffic was tied up for more than 1½ hours as a wrecker crew worked to free the truck from the bent and twisted beams which supported a height sign and flasher lights.

The beams and lights will be replaced shortly, highway department officals said, but until the barrier is erected, two watchmen will take turns guarding the Ohio approach on a 24-hour basis.

—:—

THE BEAMS and lights have to be obtained throught the Division office at New Philadelphia, but it is hoped the barrier will be up again by the weekend.

The barriers were erected Feb. 8 to prevent trucks and buses from crossing the span.

The load limit was set in January at the recommendation of engineers who discovered corrosion in the cables of the 70-year-old bridge.

Highway officials at Columbus are awaiting a written report from the engineering firm of Modjeski and Masters of Harrisburg concerning their inspection. It is anticipated auxiliary cable will be strung to give additional support.

A small trailer being pulled by an auto hit the barrier on the Chester side of the bridge the day the beams were first erected. A bakery truck became lodged under the barrier on the Chester side Saturday morning.

Trustees Air Tree Removal

Removal of trees, blocking the view of motorists along a section of the Cannons Mills Rd., Glenmoor, was discussed by St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

The county engineer's office will be contacted to determine the right-of-way on the road between former Route 267 and the former Y. O. Rd. The trees are close to the road and are a hazard, trustees said.

The trustees set a deadline of two weeks for payment of outstanding fees for the 1967 blacktopping program. The total due is $734. Some residents of Milton Rd., Moore St. and Wyoming Ave. have failed to pay. If they do not meet the deadline, the county auditor will be instructed to place the collection on the real estate tax duplicate.

Complaints of parking problems were received from residents of Hamilton Ave. in the Substation area and Staunton Ave. and Florence St. in Glenmoor. Trustees also issued a warning against vandalism of traffic signs. Violators will be prosecuted.

The trustees will meet again Monday night.

Midland Gets EDA's Check On Expansion

The Midland Municipal Authority has received a $65,661 check from the EDA as second payment of the current water expansion project.

The check was authorized now that 75 per cent of the work has been completed. Another check will be sent when 90 per cent is done. The federal agency will withhold 10 per cent of its share —the EDA is paying half of the $342,000 project—until the work is inspected by EDA engineers.

The Municipal Authority announced Monday night it will comply with an order from the Pennsylvania Sanitation Water Board to upgrade the sewage treatment plant.

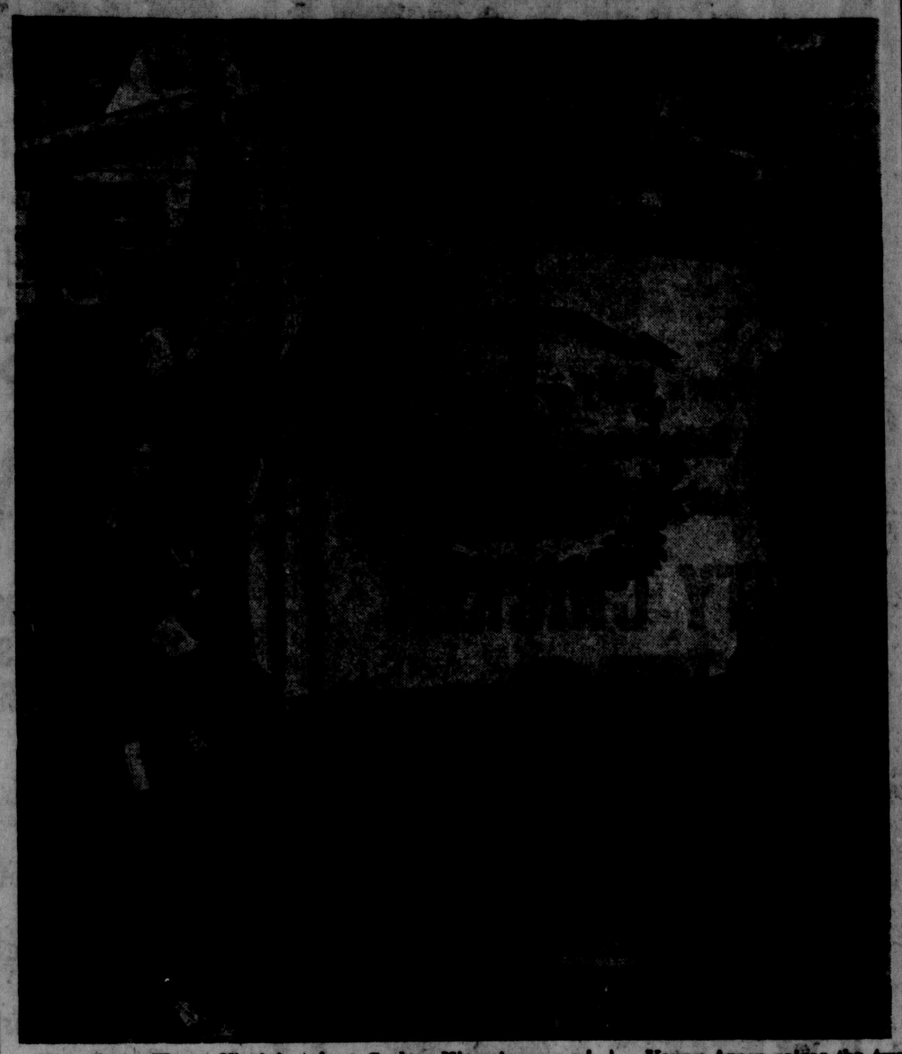

The authority was notified Jan. 18 to submit a schedule within 60 days for changing the treatment procedure. Some 44 other communities also were ordered to upgrade their treatment plants.

The upgrading probably will require the purchase and installation of trickling filters.

The 1967 audit was completed by Charles Loll, a certified public accounting firm. Approval was granted to purchase a new machine to help locate water leaks at a cost of $395. The present machine is 22 years old.

Bills include water, $18,341; sewage, $3,330, and parking, $216.

and Ryan with harboring and concealing a felon (Nesbitt).

Nesbitt pleaded guilty at arraignment Feb. 5 to four East Liverpool area robberies — Oct. 9 and 20 at the Little Dinner, Oct. 10 at Gilmore's Service Station in Glenmoor and Oct. 14 at Saltsman's Drugstore in Calcutta. His request for probation is under investigation. Meanwhile, he is in the County Jail in lieu of bond.

Another state's witness yesterday was John Hennis, 24, (alias Johnny Action) of 705 S. Chestnut St., New Cumberland. He has pleaded not guilty to three counts of harboring and concealing Nesbitt and to the Little Diner robbery Oct. 20.

He testified he was at Ryan's apartment the night of Oct. 19-20, that Candito was there and that Candito had "a little blank cartridge pistol with a pearl handle." He said everyone there handled the gun.

Hennis refused to answer this question put by Defense Counsel Donald D. Say of East Liverpool: "Were you down at the Heritage House on the morning of Oct. 20 about 7 a. m.?"

"I refuse to answer on grounds that it would incriminate me," the witness replied. Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sustained the refusal to answer. The judge had asked Hennis, when he took the stand, if he understood his constitutional rights and Hennis replied that he did.

Candito claims he and his wife were at his parents' home in Smiths Ferry at 7 a. m. Oct. 20 when Mrs. Taylor testified she was robbed by a man she later learned was Larry Nesbitt.

But it was apparent that entry was not gained and the would-be intruder may have been frightened away. Robert Schell of Imperial Dr. was listed as the owner of the business.

Midland Gets EDA's Check On Expansion

The Midland Municipal Authority has received a $65,661 check from the EDA as second payment of the current water expansion project.

The check was authorized now that 75 per cent of the work has been completed. Another check will be sent when 90 per cent is done. The federal agency will withhold 10 per cent of its share —the EDA is paying half of the $342,000 project—until the work is inspected by EDA engineers.

The Municipal Authority announced Monday night it will comply with an order from the Pennsylvania Sanitation Water Board to upgrade the sewage treatment plant.

The authority was notified Jan. 18 to submit a schedule within 60 days for changing the treatment procedure. Some 44 other communities also were ordered to upgrade their treatment plants.

The upgrading probably will require the purchase and installation of trickling filters.

The 1967 audit was completed by Charles Loll, a certified public accounting firm. Approval was granted to purchase a new machine to help locate water leaks at a cost of $395. The present machine is 22 years old.

Bills include water, $18,341; sewage, $3,330, and parking, $216.

Lisbon Students To Take Part In Music Festival

LISBON — David Anderson High School singers and bandsmen will participate in the annual Columbiana County high school music festival Friday at 8 p.m. in Salem Senior High School.

Several hundred students will take part. The DAHS chorus will have 69 boys and girls in the all-county chorus.

Curtis Hansen, editor of Schmitt Hall and McCreary Publishing Co., will be guest choral clinician — and Donald Bye of Youngstown University will be guest band director.

The students rehearsed at Salem from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and have rehearsals scheduled from 7 to 10 p. m. Thursday and 1 to 5 p. m. Friday at Salem.

Leonard Welch, chorus director at DAHS and Lincoln Junior High, directed the boys of the county chorus in an hour-long rehearsal Saturday. David May, DAHS band director, conducted the county band in a rehearsal of "America, the Beautiful."

City Driver Injured In Hancock Accident

A Cicero, Ill., driver was cited and an East Liverpool man was knocked unconscious in a three-car chain reaction accident Monday at 5:10 p. m. on Route 2 about a quarter mile north of the Newell Bridge.

John M. Wagner, 32, was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control and must appear before Squire John Nalley of Newell within five days.

Hancock County deputies said that cars driven by Francis Earl Connor, 44, of East Liverpool RD 2 and William E. Gaston, 43, of Blazer Ln., East Liverpool, had stopped in the lane of traffic when Wagner failed to stop.

Connor was knocked unconscious, but told deputies he would check with his family physician. Damage to Connor's car was $600 with $200 to Gaston's. The front end of Wagner's vehicle was damaged, but no estimate was given.

Chester Gets State Flag

The first West Virginia Flag reported to ever fly over Chester was waving today following presentation to the city by the Chester Kiwanis Club.

The new flag was raised Saturday afternoon in ceremonies at the city War Memorial near the Chester Bridge where an American Flag has been flown for many years.

Young Arner raises the two flags every day, weather permitting, and takes them down at night. He also mows the ground around the Memorial during the summer.

The state flag was obtained through the Grant District Burial Group.

Man Bound Over In Assault Case

Joseph (Jack) Reese, 37, of East Liverpool RD was bound over to the Columbiana County April grand jury Monday by County Judge Barry Dickson on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, filed by his wife, Delores Reese of Bell School Rd.

Reese, who filed a similar charge against his wife after he was wounded in the right arm Jan. 3 by a pistol bullet, posted $5,000 bond. She charged he assaulted her with a knife Jan. 17.

A charge of malicious destruction of property filed by Mrs. Reese, 37, was continued for hearing Feb. 26. She said he broke the windshield of her car.

Reese was also fined $50 and costs for a stop sign violation filed by a St. Clair Township constables, and was fined $50 and costs and given a 1-month license suspension for reckless operation.

Motor Club Lists Enrollment Boost

A total of 14,668 members was enrolled in the Columbiana County Motor Club during 1967, a 10 per cent increase, the board of directors of the club was notified in the annual report.

H. Jud English of East Liverpool, who has been elected general manager of the club, said there was a 21 per cent increase in the world travel department.

A. P. Morris of Salem was returned as manager of public relations and insurance for 1968. English had been executive manager.

C. W. Furney announced the board will meet April 10.

Town 'Wars' On Seagulls

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Maine (AP) — Oceanside Boothbay Harbor has declared war on seagulls polluting the town's water supply.

Two black huts similar to those used for fishing have been placed on ice-covered Adams Pond, where the town gets its water. A man inside moves the shanty toward a roosting flock of gulls and fires a shotgun through an opening. One blast and the flock flies off—and usually doesn't return until the next day.

Baker Indicted On Liquor Law Violation Charge

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Bobby Baker has been indicted by the Worcester County grand jury on charges of liquor law violations.

The Valentine Day indictment against Baker, owner of the Carousel Motel in Ocean City and former secretary to U.S. Senate Democrats, was made public Monday by Calvin Hall, county sheriff.

City Man Jailed On Alarm Charge

A city man, who pleaded guilty to charges of turning in a false fire alarm, will spend two days in jail and pay court costs after a hearing in Eastern District County Court Monday.

Thurman Mayfield, 24, of 913 Dresden Ave. was charged in February 1965 with turning in the false alarm by Chief Kenneth E. Mills of the Glenmoor fire department.

Mayfield pleaded guilty to the charge March 23, 1965, but a hearing was not held until yesterday when he was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail. All but court costs and two days of the sentence were suspended.

Mayfield had been confined to Youngstown hospital for a ime, causing the delay in the hearing.

Driver Fined After Mishap

Darrell Wayne Watkins of 1102 Dresden Ave., cited by police after an East End traffic mishap Feb. 8, was fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Represented by William Telzrow, Wellsville attorney, Watkins pleaded "no contest." The court dismissed for lack of evidence a second affidavit in which Watkins was charged with being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated. Watkins was cited Feb. 8 at 11:35 a. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith.

Meanwhile, Clyde T. Smith, 19, of Winooski, Vt., was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of operating an auto without a muffler in good working order. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Monday at 4:35 p.m. on Route 7.

Emerson S. McFall, 22, of 1210 Commerce St., Wellsville, was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle. Cited Thursday on Route 7 by the patrol, he told the court he has disposed of the vehicle.

and Ryan with harboring and concealing a felon (Nesbitt).

Nesbitt pleaded guilty at arraignment Feb. 5 to four East Liverpool area robberies — Oct. 9 and 20 at the Little Dinner, Oct. 10 at Gilmore's Service Station in Glenmoor and Oct. 14 at Saltsman's Drugstore in Calcutta. His request for probation is under investigation. Meanwhile, he is in the County Jail in lieu of bond.

Another state's witness yesterday was John Hennis, 24, (alias Johnny Action) of 705 S. Chestnut St., New Cumberland. He has pleaded not guilty to three counts of harboring and concealing Nesbitt and to the Little Diner robbery Oct. 20.

He testified he was at Ryan's apartment the night of Oct. 19-20, that Candito was there and that Candito had "a little blank cartridge pistol with a pearl handle." He said everyone there handled the gun.

Hennis refused to answer this question put by Defense Counsel Donald D. Say of East Liverpool: "Were you down at the Heritage House on the morning of Oct. 20 about 7 a. m.?"

"I refuse to answer on grounds that it would incriminate me," the witness replied. Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sustained the refusal to answer. The judge had asked Hennis, when he took the stand, if he understood his constitutional rights and Hennis replied that he did.

Candito claims he and his wife were at his parents' home in Smiths Ferry at 7 a. m. Oct. 20 when Mrs. Taylor testified she was robbed by a man she later learned was Larry Nesbitt.

Unsuccessful Entry Bid Probed By Police

Burglars tried unsuccessfully to force a door at the Schell Heating Co. at 301 Pennsylvania Ave. Monday night or early today, police reported.

Ross Kennedy, an employe, discovered the attempted entry when reporting for work at 7:10 a. m. He advised police and Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolman Orin C. Smith were dispatched to investigate.

The officers found pry marks on the front door around the lock and lock plate. There also was a footprint on the door as though someone had attempted to kick it open, police said. But it was apparent that entry was not gained and the would-be intruder may have been frightened away. Robert Schell of Imperial Dr. was listed as the owner of the business.

Saturday Closing Also Gets Attention

Most Officeholders Favor Annex In County Courthouse Discussion

LISBON — Several officeholders accepted the Columbiana County commissioners' invitation to a meeting Monday afternoon to discuss overcrowded conditions in the Courthouse.

"The decision is Ours to make," said Commissioner Charles J. Gause, president of the board, "but we would like to have the thinking of the officeholders on the direction we should take."

After the hour-long discussion, Gause asked their opinion on closing the Courthouse on Saturday. The Courthouse is now open from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

—:—

GAUSE ASKED the officeholders to indicate whether they would favor renting space in buildings or building an annex to the Courthouse. The consensus was for an annex.

Gause mentioned that the Arter Building a half block from the Courthouse is to be restored and that the Hillyer Building and another downtown building are available.

He said the four young contractors who plan to build a modern fireproof, air-conditioned building inside the walls of the historic Arter Building have offered to lease it to the county for $1,750 a month, exclusive of utilities, for 10 years. The building would have vault space and an elevator from the basement to the third, and top floor.

County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said he has been asking for more room for 20 years. He said the lease arrangement seems to follow a precedent established by the federal government and big business in leasing privately-constructed buildings. "We cannot keep increasing the real estate taxes; I frankly feel the rental basis is the only way you will get any more room."

JUDGE SAID the people are at the point where they are refusing additional taxes on real estate. He referred to the difficulties of school bond issues and levies and the trouble the county had getting a new jail.

"How long was it, Russ?" he asked Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan. "Sixteen years," the sheriff replied. He said the old jail was razed in 1939 and a bond issue was put to the voters four times before the new jail was constructed in 1956.

Recorder John P. Wargo suggested that whatever step is taken the commissioners should consider the offices that are related by services and keep them together. He also suggested that the commissioners consult with Trumbull County commissioners on the problems they encountered with their new building.

Auditor Kenneth Bell said he would be in favor of an annex and that in the long run, with federal and state help, the county could build one without spending any more than it would on rentals.

He pointed out the county already is spending $375 a month for the County Board of Education offices and county Southwest Court in separate building. In addition, the commissioners are buying the former O. S. Hill Building on E. Washington St. as a county office building at $118 a month for 15 years. This building is occupied by the County Welfare Department and the Community Action Committee.

Until the Arter Building proposal was made, the commissioners had plans to covert space in the Hill Building into a juvenile courtroom. Judge Louis Tobin asked for additional space last year.

GAUSE SAID the commissioners have been quoted a price of $250,000 for building an annex on the parking lot at the southwest corner of the Courthouse. However, Commissioner R. Max Gard said the county, if it builds an annex, should construct a big one. He said the parking lot site would be too small and that it would be necessary to buy business properties on the west side of S. Market St.

Engineer John Ursu said he proposed to build a new county highway garage to replace the one at the foot of S. Market, and when it is completed—perhaps in a couple of years—he would want to move his offices in the Courthouse into the new garage.

He said the garage building could be constructed with road and bridge funds, as Mahoning and Tuscarawas counties have done. Both counties have had their engineering departments out of the Courthouse for several years, he said. "Offhand, I would say I would be in favor of an annex," he concluded.

Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner and medical director of the County Tuberculosis Clinic, also said he would favor an annex. "I would rather see the offices more in one place than spread all over town," he added. He said moving the TB clinic would present quite a problem because of the leaded walls and doors.

RONALD Mackall of East Palestine, a member of the Soldiers Relief Commission which has offices in the basement, said he would favor an annex, but a lease might have to be arranged temporarily. "We should be thinking of owning our own building eventually," he said.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey said there is a definite need for more space and he would be in favor of an annex — "a pretty big one." He said there are not many businesses doing business today in the same space they had in 1936 — which is the case of Courthouse offices.

Van Fossan, who has offices both at the jail and Courthouse, said, "We are outgrowing the Courthouse—and some of these days we are going to have to build the jail bigger." He said the recent trend has been to rent office space from private builders. "I would be in favor of whichever plan is cheaper. I have faith in the three commissioners and whatever they decide will be satisfactory with me," he added.

The sheriff mentioned the "hazard" of having the law library on the third floor. He said the weight of the books is causing the floor to sag. Gause noted that some of the weight was moved to the other side of the building, but the library should be in the basement.

Bell noted another problem—this one on the first floor. "I think it is a crime that people have to bring their children out here to juvenile traffic court, where they have to stand in the hallway in view of everyone coming to the Courthouse on business," he said.

ALSO PRESENT were Contractors Dean Rose of Lisbon and Floyd Guterba, Art Whan and R. K. McKee of Columbiana, who are seeking the county lease for the Arter Building. They were asked if the rental figure included a purchase arrangement for the building over a period of time.

Guterba said it does not, "but we would look at this with an open mind; as long as it is a sound business deal, I am sure we would be in favor of it."

Commissioner James W. Boyd said the problem "is going to take some study; it is something we cannot decide today."

McKee said the contractors are at a standstill on their planning until the commissioners give them the go-ahead and space requirements for various departments.

GARD MADE a strong statement for the lease - purchase plan:

"An annex would be a very valuable asset and it would be nice to have, but unless we got a vote from our people favoring a tax levy, I don't think you are going to buy the property needed and build a structure for less than one-half million dollars. We are waiting on an annex; what do we do in the meantime—nothing?

"We have been at a stalemate over this space problem for a long time. We will still be at a stalemate unless we do move. I am not wanting to persuade the majority to go against their better judgment, but it seems to me as though the annex is in the dim, distant future—if at all. I think, like Mr. Judge, that if a lease-purchase plan could be arranged this doesn't sound like a bad idea. But whether or not we can afford it is something the auditor and treasurer will have to tell us. The thought today is—will we remain status quo or will we act on this proposition?"

"One more think," Gause said, "do you favor closing the courthouse on Saturday?"

Stacey said the Car Title Division of his office does considerable business on Saturday. Bell, Judge, Wargo and Ursu said they are in favor of closing on Saturday. Dr. Singer said the health office should be open to issue death certificates and the TB clinic to accommodate people who work during the week.

Stacey said approximately 22 of the 88 counties close their courthouses on Saturday. Van Fossan said the sheriff's office is open all the time, so it would make no difference to him. Mackall said it would make no difference to the Soldiers Relief Commission if the Courthouse closes on Saturday.

Rites Conducted For Drug Official

Services were held Monday for Reuben Helfant of Pittsburgh, president and co-founder of Thrift Drugstores, who died Saturday at his home.

A native of Pittsburgh and a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy, he and Philip Hoffman formed the Thrift Drug Co. in 1936.

The concern has 167 stores in 10 states, including one at Calcutta.

Mr. Helfant is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel Blumfeld Helfant, and two daughters, Mrs. Richard Heitener and Miss Carol Lee Helfant of Pittsburgh.

Wallace Takes Presidential Bid Into Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP — George C. Wallace brought his third party presidential campaign to Pennsylvania Monday night and reiterated his vow to "return to the people the right to determine national and local policies."

Aides of the former Alabama governor said they were heartened by the turnout and reception. Wallace indicated he also was pleased.

Looking over the crowd of 3,000 that jammed a hotel ballroom, Wallace said, "Your appearance tonight certainly has shook the eyeteeth of liberals in both national parties. I certainly want to thank you."

Wallace got more good news, too. A local worker for his American Independent Party said a spot for Wallace on the November ballot was assured. He said workers have obtained 1,000 more than the required 10,552 signatures needed to place Wallace's name on the ballot in Pennsylvania.

But Wallace implored the crowd to continue working on his behalf and not slow their pace.

"Even though they say we got more, we got to get more, because someone may not dot their 'i' or cross their 't' just right," he said. "We gonna come back later this year and we gonna stir something up."

Saturday Closing Also Gets Attention

Most Officeholders Favor Annex In County Courthouse Discussion

LISBON — Several officeholders accepted the Columbiana County commissioners' invitation to a meeting Monday afternoon to discuss overcrowded conditions in the Courthouse.

"The decision is Ours to make," said Commissioner Charles J. Gause, president of the board, "but we would like to have the thinking of the officeholders on the direction we should take."

After the hour-long discussion, Gause asked their opinion on closing the Courthouse on Saturday. The Courthouse is now open from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

—:—

GAUSE ASKED the officeholders to indicate whether they would favor renting space in buildings or building an annex to the Courthouse. The consensus was for an annex.

Gause mentioned that the Arter Building a half block from the Courthouse is to be restored and that the Hillyer Building and another downtown building are available.

He said the four young contractors who plan to build a modern fireproof, air-conditioned building inside the walls of the historic Arter Building have offered to lease it to the county for $1,750 a month, exclusive of utilities, for 10 years. The building would have vault space and an elevator from the basement to the third, and top floor.

County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said he has been asking for more room for 20 years. He said the lease arrangement seems to follow a precedent established by the federal government and big business in leasing privately-constructed buildings. "We cannot keep increasing the real estate taxes; I frankly feel the rental basis is the only way you will get any more room."

JUDGE SAID the people are at the point where they are refusing additional taxes on real estate. He referred to the difficulties of school bond issues and levies and the trouble the county had getting a new jail.

"How long was it, Russ?" he asked Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan. "Sixteen years," the sheriff replied. He said the old jail was razed in 1939 and a bond issue was put to the voters four times before the new jail was constructed in 1956.

Recorder John P. Wargo suggested that whatever step is taken the commissioners should consider the offices that are related by services and keep them together. He also suggested that the commissioners consult with Trumbull County commissioners on the problems they encountered with their new building.

Auditor Kenneth Bell said he would be in favor of an annex and that in the long run, with federal and state help, the county could build one without spending any more than it would on rentals.

He pointed out the county already is spending $375 a month for the County Board of Education offices and county Southwest Court in separate building. In addition, the commissioners are buying the former O. S. Hill Building on E. Washington St. as a county office building at $118 a month for 15 years. This building is occupied by the County Welfare Department and the Community Action Committee.

Until the Arter Building proposal was made, the commissioners had plans to covert space in the Hill Building into a juvenile courtroom. Judge Louis Tobin asked for additional space last year.

GAUSE SAID the commissioners have been quoted a price of $250,000 for building an annex on the parking lot at the southwest corner of the Courthouse. However, Commissioner R. Max Gard said the county, if it builds an annex, should construct a big one. He said the parking lot site would be too small and that it would be necessary to buy business properties on the west side of S. Market St.

Engineer John Ursu said he proposed to build a new county highway garage to replace the one at the foot of S. Market, and when it is completed—perhaps in a couple of years—he would want to move his offices in the Courthouse into the new garage.

He said the garage building could be constructed with road and bridge funds, as Mahoning and Tuscarawas counties have done. Both counties have had their engineering departments out of the Courthouse for several years, he said. "Offhand, I would say I would be in favor of an annex," he concluded.

Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner and medical director of the County Tuberculosis Clinic, also said he would favor an annex. "I would rather see the offices more in one place than spread all over town," he added. He said moving the TB clinic would present quite a problem because of the leaded walls and doors.

RONALD Mackall of East Palestine, a member of the Soldiers Relief Commission which has offices in the basement, said he would favor an annex, but a lease might have to be arranged temporarily. "We should be thinking of owning our own building eventually," he said.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey said there is a definite need for more space and he would be in favor of an annex — "a pretty big one." He said there are not many businesses doing business today in the same space they had in 1936 — which is the case of Courthouse offices.

Van Fossan, who has offices both at the jail and Courthouse, said, "We are outgrowing the Courthouse—and some of these days we are going to have to build the jail bigger." He said the recent trend has been to rent office space from private builders. "I would be in favor of whichever plan is cheaper. I have faith in the three commissioners and whatever they decide will be satisfactory with me," he added.

The sheriff mentioned the "hazard" of having the law library on the third floor. He said the weight of the books is causing the floor to sag. Gause noted that some of the weight was moved to the other side of the building, but the library should be in the basement.

Bell noted another problem—this one on the first floor. "I think it is a crime that people have to bring their children out here to juvenile traffic court, where they have to stand in the hallway in view of everyone coming to the Courthouse on business," he said.

ALSO PRESENT were Contractors Dean Rose of Lisbon and Floyd Guterba, Art Whan and R. K. McKee of Columbiana, who are seeking the county lease for the Arter Building. They were asked if the rental figure included a purchase arrangement for the building over a period of time.

Guterba said it does not, "but we would look at this with an open mind; as long as it is a sound business deal, I am sure we would be in favor of it."

Commissioner James W. Boyd said the problem "is going to take some study; it is something we cannot decide today."

McKee said the contractors are at a standstill on their planning until the commissioners give them the go-ahead and space requirements for various departments.

GARD MADE a strong statement for the lease - purchase plan:

"An annex would be a very valuable asset and it would be nice to have, but unless we got a vote from our people favoring a tax levy, I don't think you are going to buy the property needed and build a structure for less than one-half million dollars. We are waiting on an annex; what do we do in the meantime—nothing?

"We have been at a stalemate over this space problem for a long time. We will still be at a stalemate unless we do move. I am not wanting to persuade the majority to go against their better judgment, but it seems to me as though the annex is in the dim, distant future—if at all. I think, like Mr. Judge, that if a lease-purchase plan could be arranged this doesn't sound like a bad idea. But whether or not we can afford it is something the auditor and treasurer will have to tell us. The thought today is—will we remain status quo or will we act on this proposition?"

"One more think," Gause said, "do you favor closing the courthouse on Saturday?"

Stacey said the Car Title Division of his office does considerable business on Saturday. Bell, Judge, Wargo and Ursu said they are in favor of closing on Saturday. Dr. Singer said the health office should be open to issue death certificates and the TB clinic to accommodate people who work during the week.

Stacey said approximately 22 of the 88 counties close their courthouses on Saturday. Van Fossan said the sheriff's office is open all the time, so it would make no difference to him. Mackall said it would make no difference to the Soldiers Relief Commission if the Courthouse closes on Saturday.

Wallace Takes Presidential Bid Into Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP — George C. Wallace brought his third party presidential campaign to Pennsylvania Monday night and reiterated his vow to "return to the people the right to determine national and local policies."

Aides of the former Alabama governor said they were heartened by the turnout and reception. Wallace indicated he also was pleased.

Looking over the crowd of 3,000 that jammed a hotel ballroom, Wallace said, "Your appearance tonight certainly has shook the eyeteeth of liberals in both national parties. I certainly want to thank you."

Wallace got more good news, too. A local worker for his American Independent Party said a spot for Wallace on the November ballot was assured. He said workers have obtained 1,000 more than the required 10,552 signatures needed to place Wallace's name on the ballot in Pennsylvania.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I live near an elementary school. We always have taken pride in our lawn and garden. The grass is like velvet carpet and the flowers are so beautiful people come from other parts of the city just to look.

We are not mean people, Ann, and we do love children, but it is maddening the way some of the elementary school youngsters run across our lawn and trample on the flowers.

Last week I telephoned the school and asked to speak to the principal. I was told on two occasions that the principal was out of the office but would return my call. The call was not returned.

On the third try I heard the principal's secretary say, "This nut has called twice before and I managed to get rid of her but you'd better take the call this time because she's the type who won't give up."

When the principal got on the phone he was very courteous and promised to speak to the students about trespassing on our property.

My question is this: Why is a person who calls to ask for the school's cooperation considered a "nut"? Was I crazy to make this request? Thank you for your answer. — FORT WORTH.

Dear Fort Worth: A person who telephones to complain about anything is immediately on the spot because most folks don't like criticism. For this reason, the complainer fares better if he doesn't come on too strong with his complaint, particularly to an intermediary.

The secretary was not only rude but unbelievably stupid. I wouldn't want that knucklehead in my office!

Henna Hen

Dear Ann: A relative of mine is doing something which I feel goes beyond "foolish." It is, in my judgment, harmful to her child. This is the story:

Melanie is a middle-aged divorcee who has a sweet little daughter. Melanie's natural hair color is dark brown but apparently she didn't think it was flashy enough to get a fourth husband, so last year she dyed her hair platinum blonde. In order to make herself appear more authentic, she dyed her young daughter's hair the same color. By the way, Melanie does the dye jobs herself and they look it.

The little girl is now 5 years of age and her hair is getting very thin on top. I'm afraid the child will be bald by the time she's 8 if her mother doesn't stop this nonsense.

Melanie is my niece. What can I do? — COMMITTEE OF ONE TO SAVE A CHILD.

Dear Committee: It is best that this subject be broached by someone of authority, outside the family. Ask the child's teacher to talk to the mother. There's a good chance that the teacher also has noticed the little girl's hair is falling out. A mother who would exploit her child in such a way is utterly brainless.

To So in Love: You can call it love if you want to, but I have another name for it. Wake up and smell the coffee. He hangs around because the price is right and he has nothing to lose, Dummy.

ALLIANCE'S 66-52 win over Massillon at Massillon Friday is a little more believable when it is discovered that the ace of the Tigers, 6-7 Brian Westover, missed the game with a back injury. Lionel Grimes scored 28 to lead the Aviators.

Hawkins, Williams Lead Pipers Past Minnesota

By The Associated Press

Pittsburgh's surging Pipers, with Charlie Williams and Connie Hawkins supplying the punch, have the Minnesota Muskies reeling.

Hawkins broke a 110-110 deadlock with 1:54 to go against Minnesota, hitting a basket and free throw Monday night, sending the Pipers to their fourth straight victory. The triumph increased their margin over the second-place Muskies, who dropped their second in a row, in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Williams' 35 points and 33 by Hawkins gave Pittsburgh its biggest margin of the season—2½ games—over Minnesota. Mel Daniels topped Minnesota with 35 points.

In other ABA action, Kentucky nipped Indiana 134-129 and Houston beat Oakland 118-111.

Darel Carrier poured in 43 points for Kentucky, edging the Colonels to withing 2½ games of the Pacers in their battle for the final playoff spot in the Eastern Division. Jimmy Rayl had 30 points for Indiana.

With 1:14 left to play, Houston's Willie Somerset hit on a 20-foot jumper to put the Mavericks ahead 112-111 and 10 seconds later added two free throws to clinch the decision.

Somerset finished with 24 points. Art Becker topped Houston with 27 while Steve Jones had 30 points for the Oaks.

Beavers, Big Red End Tied For 35

COLUMBUS (AP) East Liverpool ended the season where it started it — and spent every week in between — in eighth place in the Associated Press high school basketball poll.

Columbus East also stayed in the same spot every week, but it was more rewarding to the Tigers, as they were number one. Beaver Local and Steubenville tied for 35th in the poll. Northwestern of Wayne County ended up first in the Class A rankings of the final poll.

Now the two leaders start the sectional, district, regional and state championship tournament grind in a bid to make the sports writers and sportscasters who voted them best look good.

East, locking up its second straight regular season with an untarnished 16-0 record, was a convincing 50-point runaway winner over No. 2 Middletown, 17-1.

Coach Bob Hart's Tigers also won accolades in last year's AP poll before disaster struck in the Columbus regional. Columbus Linden, the eventual Class AA champion, upset the Tigers en route to the title.

Northwestern, which copped titles in 1958 and 1965, won out in a stirring Class A duel with Western of Pike County. The Huskies, 17-1, edged Western, 19-0, by a scant six points.

In the large school division, Cleveland East, 14-0, and Toledo Central, 17-1, deadlocked for third place on 122 points, 45 back of Middletown's seven-time kings.

Newark held fifth again as the Wildcats finished 16-1, the lone loss coming to mighty East.

Rounding out the elite group were Cuyahoga Falls, 17-1, Columbus Linden, 14-2, East Liverpool, 16-1, Sandusky, 15-3, and Dayton Dunbar, 17-1.

The last two quintets climbed into the top 10 for the first time as Toledo Libbey and Canton McKinley, a 38-33 loser to Canton Lincoln Friday, dropped out.

Streetsboro, 18-0, nailed down third in Class A followed by Convoy Crestview, 19-1, Avon, 16-0, Southeastern (Ross), 17-2, Licking Valley, Canal Winchester, 18-1, Dixie, 16-2 and Shenandoah, 16-1.

Shenandoah moved into the charmed circle as St. Henry, beaten for the second time by Convoy Crestview, fell to 15th.

Crestview had its bid for a perfect season marred in its finale Saturday in a tough 60-59 loss to Delphos Jefferson.

Oak Glen Hosts Weirton

Pennsylvania Teams Close Season Tonight

There are four games in the area tonight, as the regular season draws to a close in Pennsylvania.

Midland, with a 9-12 mark, the first losing season in 21 years for the Leopards, plays at Monaca, 20-1. A win over the powerful Indians would make up for many frustrations of the season, though actually the Leopards, tied for third place in Section 6 with a 6-7 mark, have done better with a short, inexperienced team than many people figured. Dave Vanlier, scoring 18.7 points a game, has been a mainstay for Ed Olkowski's first team. Howard Leak is contributing 12.9 a contest.

South Side, with a slight hope for the Section 17 championship, travels to East Allegheny. The Rams are 6-3 in league play, 11-8 overall. West Allegheny is 0-8 in the league, 5-13 overall. South Side is paced by Ron Peden, scoring 23.6 a game, while Dan Hartzell is at 12.6.

John Nace's Rams are tied for second place with Crafton, which tangles with Carnegie tonight. The key game in the league is Center at Western Beaver. John Dudo's Golden Beavers ambushed South Side and Crafton, and both these teams split home - and - home games with Center, leading the league at 7-2. A Western Beaver win tonight would make a triple - tie possible if Crafton and South Side won.

John Petchel and Darryl Dye at 12.3 lead Western. Sam Liberatore is hitting 12.0, Chuck Kelker 11.9 and Mike Lacey 11.1. Ken Wicek and Dave Vaughn lead the Trojans of Alberts, who are 15-6 overall.

Oak Glen, already assured of the Hancock County championship with a 3-0 mark against county teams, faces arch-rival Weirton tonight at Oak Glen. The Golden Bears won a 71-70 double - overtime thriller at Weirton early in the season. Dan Crago at 14.8, Jim Carnes at 14.3 and John Roach at 12.2 pace Bob Starkey's team. Weirton is 4-12, Oak Glen 9-9.

E. Palestine Places Two On Star Team

East Palestine, champions of the Tri-County League, placed two players on the league's all-star team, as determined by a vote of the coaches.

Dan McKinstry and Bill Lewis were first team selections, along with Bert Pharis of Poland, Joe Bowers of Sebring and Dan Dager of Minerva.

Joe Lewis of East Palestine made the second team, along with Dan Gaughn of Columbiana, Bill Hartman of Lisbon, Jeff Laughlin of Poland and Greg Wilson of Sebring. Honorable mentions included George Vestfals and Bill Gela of Columbiana, Tom Hunston and Jim Taucher of East Palestine, Jay Bland and Allen Gibson of and Jim Courtney of Lisbon.

St. Bonaventure Now 19-0; Kentucky Defeats Georgia

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was the eve of postseason college basketball tournament selections and the St. Bonaventure Brown Indians and the Kentucky Wildcats went to bed with visions of bids dancing in their heads after rousing victories.

However, only the Bonnies could expect the real thing today. The Wildcats must play good a while longer.

St. Bonaventure, as an independent, seemed certain of bids from both the NIT and NCAA after turning loose Bill Butler and Bob Lanier for a 97-84 victory over visiting Creighton Monday night, protecting its unbeaten record and No. 4 ranking.

Kentucky, on the other hand, will have to do even better than its impressive 106-87 breeze past tough Georgia away from home before earning an NCAA bid which automatically goes to the winner of the Southeastern Conference.

The Wildcats, ranked fifth, raised their conference record to 12-3 and kept them ahead of Vanderbilt, No. 9, which ran its SEC record to 10-4 by crushing Alabama 89-74 at Tuscaloosa. Idle Tennessee is 9-4.

Marquette, No. 10, also closed in on a bid by celebrating its entry into the Top Ten with a 75-65 triumph at South Dakota. Another team with postseason ideas, Chicago Loyola, raced to an 83-74 decision over visiting Bowling Green for a 14-6 record.

Long Island U., the nation's top-ranked small college team rumored hopeful of a major college tournament bid, kept its record unblemished by coming away from Bridgeport with a 68-52 victory, its 19th. Runner-up Kentucky Wesleyan brushed aside host Arkansas State 73-62.

Butler, a 6-foot-3 senior, and Lanier, 6-11 sophomore, sparked St. Bonaventure's 19th success with 29 and 27 points, respectively. The Bonnies took a 9-2 lead and Creighton, 8-13, never caught up.

Kentucky put its early problems in the hands of lanky Don Issel, a 6-8 sophomore who scored 31 points and assured the Wildcats of at least a tie for the SEC title.

The Wildcats trailed by nine points in the first half and it wasn't until Issel's corner shot with 13 minutes left that they took the lead for good at 67-66. Bob Lienhard kept Georgia in contention with 33 points.

But Kentucky still has its work cut out, despite closing at home in its last three games. The first test is Saturday against Auburn, which upset Kentucky earlier, and after Alabama on Monday comes a showdown agains Vanderbilt March 2.

Vandy stayed in the race, taking charge of Alabama in the first three minutes and Tom Hagan finished with 22 points and Bob Bundy 21.

Marquette, led by George Thompson's 25 points, took a 29-17 lead and South Dakota never got closer than 10. Jim Tillman scored 21 points as Loyola pulled away from a 40-38 halftime lead.

Marquette Ranked 10 In College Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

The Houston Cougars, still a solid leader in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll, should have no trouble extending their unbeaten streak this week.

The Cougars, 23-0, take on two small-college teams. They meet the University of Texas at Arlington on Thursday and Valparaiso Saturday. Texas at Arlington has won only three of 21 games while Valparaiso has a 10-11 record.

Houston received 26 first-place votes and 332 points in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. In the voting by a national panel of 34 sports writers and broadcasters, points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

UCLA, 20-1, held second place. The Bruins had the eight other votes for the top position and 314 points.

Houston beat Miami, Fla. and Air Force while UCLA defeated Oregon State and Oregon last week.

North Carolina, 20-1, remained in the No. 3 spot followed by unbeaten St. Bonaventure. The Bonnies scored their 18th triumph last week, 91-71 over Seton Hall in overtime.

Kentucky, winner over Tennessee and Mississippi State, climbed three positions to fifth. Columbia held sixth place followed by New Mexico, Duke, Vanderbilt and Marquette.

New Mexico slipped two notches to seventh after losing to Utah.

1. Houston (26)	332
2 UCLA (8)	314
3. North Carolina	266
4. St. Bonaventure	232
5. Kentucky	149
6. Columbia	129
7. New Mexico	123
8. Duke	102
9. Vanderbilt	95

Ron Peden Increases Score Lead

Ron Peden of South Side increased his lead in scoring among area basketball players last week.

Peden upped his average from 23.1 to 23.6 by scoring 57 points in two games last week. Dan McKinstry of East Palestine, second to Peden, saw his average fall from 21.6 to 21.4 as he scored 39 points. Tom McClain of Wellsville and Dan Gaughn of Columbiana were newcomers to the Top 10. McClain had 49 points in two games to jump all the way to seventh place. Allen Gibson of Leetonia and Jim Courtney of Lisbon dropped out of the Top 10.

East Liverpool and Beaver Local, the teams with the best records in the area, continued to lead in defense and offense,

Potters Hold 11 Opponents To Low

A good testimony to the fine defense of the East Liverpool basketball team this season is scoring of Potter opponents against other teams. In 11 of the 17 games played by East Liverpool, the Potters have limited the opposition to its lowest score of the season. Opponents so limited were Bellaire St. John's, 54, Pittsburgh Westinghouse 39, Midland 36, Pittsburgh South 45, Youngstown Ursuline 51, Youngstown East 36, Steubenville 47, Salem 35, Warren Western Reserve 34, Barberton 29 and Martins Ferry 56.

respectively. The Potters are yielding 45.1 points a game, far ahead of the 56.6 a contest given by East Palestine, while the Beavers are scoring 74.2 a game, well above the 66.4 mark posted by Stanton.

Columbus East also stayed in the same spot every week, but it was more rewarding to the Tigers, as they were number one. Beaver Local and Steubenville tied for 35th in the poll. Northwestern of Wayne County ended up first in the Class A rankings of the final poll.

Now the two leaders start the sectional, district, regional and state championship tournament grind in a bid to make the sports writers and sportscasters who voted them best look good.

East, locking up its second straight regular season with an untarnished 16-0 record, was a convincing 50-point runaway winner over No. 2 Middletown, 17-1.

Coach Bob Hart's Tigers also won accolades in last year's AP poll before disaster struck in the Columbus regional. Columbus Linden, the eventual Class AA champion, upset the Tigers en route to the title.

Northwestern, which copped titles in 1958 and 1965, won out in a stirring Class A duel with Western of Pike County. The Huskies, 17-1, edged Western, 19-0, by a scant six points.

In the large school division, Cleveland East, 14-0, and Toledo Central, 17-1, deadlocked for third place on 122 points, 45 back of Middletown's seven-time kings.

Newark held fifth again as the Wildcats finished 16-1, the lone loss coming to mighty East.

Rounding out the elite group were Cuyahoga Falls, 17-1, Columbus Linden, 14-2, East Liverpool, 16-1, Sandusky, 15-3, and Dayton Dunbar, 17-1.

The last two quintets climbed into the top 10 for the first time as Toledo Libbey and Canton McKinley, a 38-33 loser to Canton Lincoln Friday, dropped out.

Streetsboro, 18-0, nailed down third in Class A followed by Convoy Crestview, 19-1, Avon, 16-0, Southeastern (Ross), 17-2, Licking Valley, Canal Winchester, 18-1, Dixie, 16-2 and Shenandoah, 16-1.

Shenandoah moved into the charmed circle as St. Henry, beaten for the second time by Convoy Crestview, fell to 15th.

Crestview had its bid for a perfect season marred in its finale Saturday in a tough 60-59 loss to Delphos Jefferson.

Oak Glen Hosts Weirton

Pennsylvania Teams Close Season Tonight

There are four games in the area tonight, as the regular season draws to a close in Pennsylvania.

Midland, with a 9-12 mark, the first losing season in 21 years for the Leopards, plays at Monaca, 20-1. A win over the powerful Indians would make up for many frustrations of the season, though actually the Leopards, tied for third place in Section 6 with a 6-7 mark, have done better with a short, inexperienced team than many people figured. Dave Vanlier, scoring 18.7 points a game, has been a mainstay for Ed Olkowski's first team. Howard Leak is contributing 12.9 a contest.

South Side, with a slight hope for the Section 17 championship, travels to East Allegheny. The Rams are 6-3 in league play, 11-8 overall. West Allegheny is 0-8 in the league, 5-13 overall. South Side is paced by Ron Peden, scoring 23.6 a game, while Dan Hartzell is at 12.6.

John Nace's Rams are tied for second place with Crafton, which tangles with Carnegie tonight. The key game in the league is Center at Western Beaver. John Dudo's Golden Beavers ambushed South Side and Crafton, and both these teams split home - and - home games with Center, leading the league at 7-2. A Western Beaver win tonight would make a triple - tie possible if Crafton and South Side won.

John Petchel and Darryl Dye at 12.3 lead Western. Sam Liberatore is hitting 12.0, Chuck Kelker 11.9 and Mike Lacey 11.1. Ken Wicek and Dave Vaughn lead the Trojans of Alberts, who are 15-6 overall.

Oak Glen, already assured of the Hancock County championship with a 3-0 mark against county teams, faces arch-rival Weirton tonight at Oak Glen. The Golden Bears won a 71-70 double - overtime thriller at Weirton early in the season. Dan Crago at 14.8, Jim Carnes at 14.3 and John Roach at 12.2 pace Bob Starkey's team. Weirton is 4-12, Oak Glen 9-9.

E. Palestine Places Two On Star Team

East Palestine, champions of the Tri-County League, placed two players on the league's all-star team, as determined by a vote of the coaches.

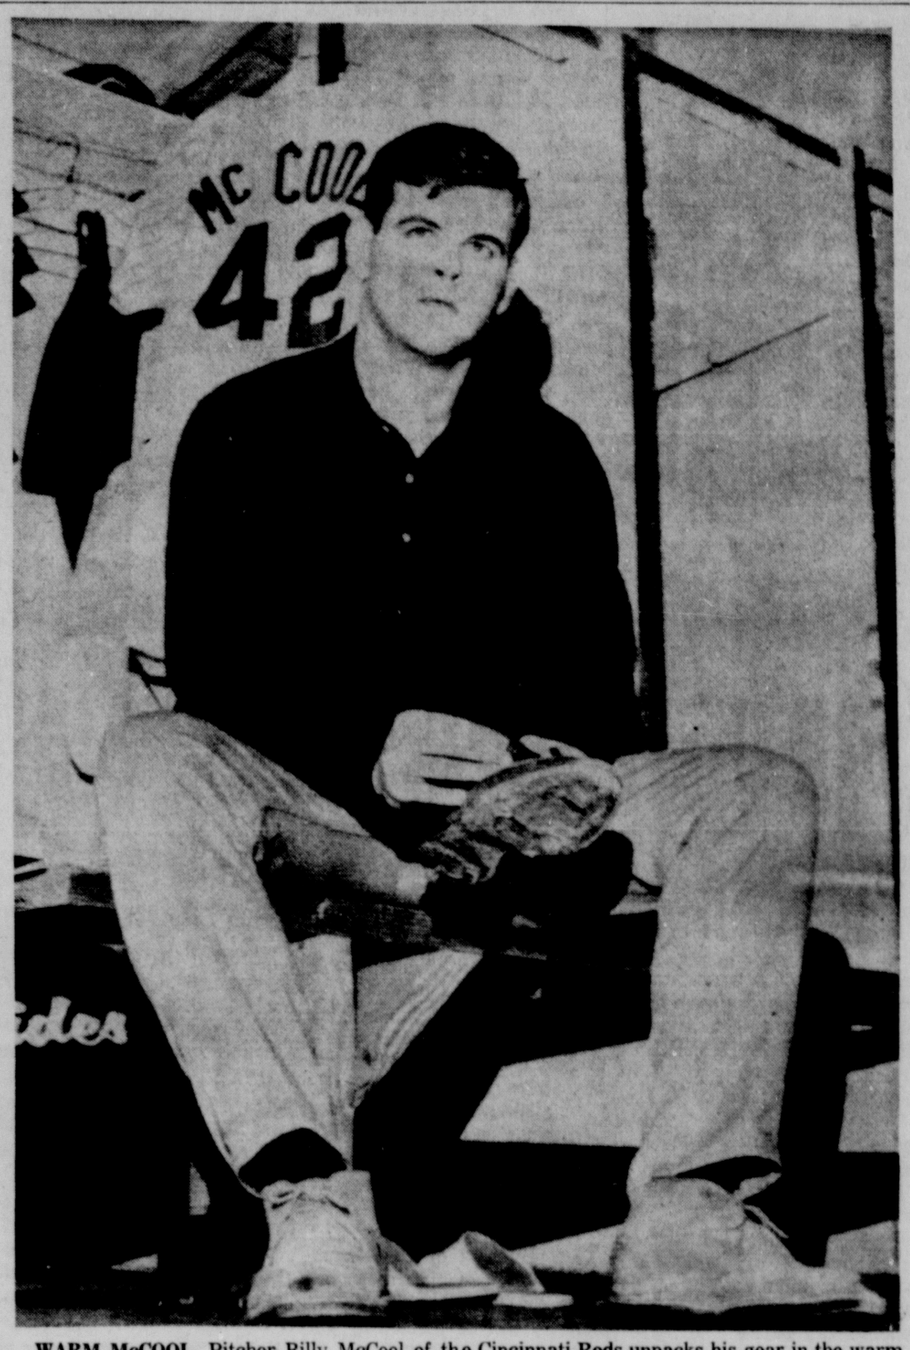

Dan McKinstry and Bill Lewis were first team selections, along with Bert Pharis of Poland, Joe Bowers of Sebring and Dan Dager of Minerva.

Joe Lewis of East Palestine made the second team, along with Dan Gaughn of Columbiana, Bill Hartman of Lisbon, Jeff Laughlin of Poland and Greg Wilson of Sebring. Honorable mentions included George Vestfals and Bill Gela of Columbiana, Tom Hunston and Jim Taucher of East Palestine, Jay Bland and Allen Gibson of and Jim Courtney of Lisbon.

St. Bonaventure Now 19-0; Kentucky Defeats Georgia

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was the eve of postseason college basketball tournament selections and the St. Bonaventure Brown Indians and the Kentucky Wildcats went to bed with visions of bids dancing in their heads after rousing victories.

However, only the Bonnies could expect the real thing today. The Wildcats must play good a while longer.

St. Bonaventure, as an independent, seemed certain of bids from both the NIT and NCAA after turning loose Bill Butler and Bob Lanier for a 97-84 victory over visiting Creighton Monday night, protecting its unbeaten record and No. 4 ranking.

Kentucky, on the other hand, will have to do even better than its impressive 106-87 breeze past tough Georgia away from home before earning an NCAA bid which automatically goes to the winner of the Southeastern Conference.

The Wildcats, ranked fifth, raised their conference record to 12-3 and kept them ahead of Vanderbilt, No. 9, which ran its SEC record to 10-4 by crushing Alabama 89-74 at Tuscaloosa. Idle Tennessee is 9-4.

Marquette, No. 10, also closed in on a bid by celebrating its entry into the Top Ten with a 75-65 triumph at South Dakota. Another team with postseason ideas, Chicago Loyola, raced to an 83-74 decision over visiting Bowling Green for a 14-6 record.

Long Island U., the nation's top-ranked small college team rumored hopeful of a major college tournament bid, kept its record unblemished by coming away from Bridgeport with a 68-52 victory, its 19th. Runner-up Kentucky Wesleyan brushed aside host Arkansas State 73-62.

Butler, a 6-foot-3 senior, and Lanier, 6-11 sophomore, sparked St. Bonaventure's 19th success with 29 and 27 points, respectively. The Bonnies took a 9-2 lead and Creighton, 8-13, never caught up.

Kentucky put its early problems in the hands of lanky Don Issel, a 6-8 sophomore who scored 31 points and assured the Wildcats of at least a tie for the SEC title.

The Wildcats trailed by nine points in the first half and it wasn't until Issel's corner shot with 13 minutes left that they took the lead for good at 67-66. Bob Lienhard kept Georgia in contention with 33 points.

But Kentucky still has its work cut out, despite closing at home in its last three games. The first test is Saturday against Auburn, which upset Kentucky earlier, and after Alabama on Monday comes a showdown agains Vanderbilt March 2.

Vandy stayed in the race, taking charge of Alabama in the first three minutes and Tom Hagan finished with 22 points and Bob Bundy 21.

Marquette, led by George Thompson's 25 points, took a 29-17 lead and South Dakota never got closer than 10. Jim Tillman scored 21 points as Loyola pulled away from a 40-38 halftime lead.

Marquette Ranked 10 In College Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

The Houston Cougars, still a solid leader in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll, should have no trouble extending their unbeaten streak this week.

The Cougars, 23-0, take on two small-college teams. They meet the University of Texas at Arlington on Thursday and Valparaiso Saturday. Texas at Arlington has won only three of 21 games while Valparaiso has a 10-11 record.

Houston received 26 first-place votes and 332 points in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. In the voting by a national panel of 34 sports writers and broadcasters, points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

UCLA, 20-1, held second place. The Bruins had the eight other votes for the top position and 314 points.

Houston beat Miami, Fla. and Air Force while UCLA defeated Oregon State and Oregon last week.

North Carolina, 20-1, remained in the No. 3 spot followed by unbeaten St. Bonaventure. The Bonnies scored their 18th triumph last week, 81-71 over Seton Hall in overtime.

Kentucky, winner over Tennessee and Mississippi State, climbed three positions to fifth. Columbia held sixth place followed by New Mexico, Duke, Vanderbilt and Marquette.

New Mexico slipped two notches to seventh after losing to Utah.

Ron Peden Increases Score Lead

Ron Peden of South Side increased his lead in scoring among area basketball players last week.

Peden upped his average from 23.1 to 23.6 by scoring 57 points in two games last week. Dan McKinstry of East Palestine, second to Peden, saw his average fall from 21.6 to 21.4 as he scored 39 points. Tom McClain of Wellsville and Dan Gaughn of Columbiana were newcomers to the Top 10. McClain had 49 points in two games to jump all the way to seventh place. Allen Gibson of Leetonia and Jim Courtney of Lisbon dropped out of the Top 10.

East Liverpool and Beaver Local, the teams with the best records in the area, continued to lead in defense and offense, respectively. The Potters are yielding 45.1 points a game, far ahead of the 56.6 a contest given by East Palestine, while the Beavers are scoring 74.2 a game, well above the 66.4 mark posted by Stanton.

Potters Hold 11 Opponents To Low

A good testimony to the fine defense of the East Liverpool basketball team this season is scoring of Potter opponents against other teams. In 11 of the 17 games played by East Liverpool, the Potters have limited the opposition to its lowest score of the season. Opponents so limited were Bellaire St. John's, 54, Pittsburgh Westinghouse 39, Midland 36, Pittsburgh South 45, Youngstown Ursuline 51, Youngstown East 36, Steubenville 47, Salem 35, Warren Western Reserve 34, Barberton 29 and Martins Ferry 56.

Liber Breaks Foot, Out Of Tourney

Salem's star center, Rick Liber, will miss the AA sectional playoffs at Youngstown because of a broken bone in his foot suffered in Salem's 50-46 win over Warren Western Reserve Friday.

The 6-5 senior will be sidelined for six weeks.

Hirsch, Motley, Trippi Named To Football Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch and Charlie Trippi, who ran to glory in the open field, and Marion Motley, who made it with power, are among the seven newest members of professional football's Hall of Fame.

Also named Monday were Cliff Battles, Wayne Millner, Art Donovan and Alex Wojciechowicz.

A board comprised of 15 sports writers and broadcasters from National Football League cities selected the seven to join 47 other grid greats in the Hall at Canton, Ohio.

They will be inducted formally at ceremonies in Canton sometime next summer.

Hirsch, now assistant to President Dan Reeves of the Los Angeles Rams, starred at halfback for Wisconsin and Michigan, and, then as an end, led the NFL in scoring and pass receptions with the Rams in 1951. He had pro career total of 6,299 yards and 53 touchdowns with the old Chicago Rockets and the Rams.

Trippi rode high as a pro as a member of the Dream Backfield of the Chicago Cardinals, now St. Louis. He starred in college as a halfback-quarterback for Georgia.

Motley came out of the University of Nevada to star at fullback for Paul Browns' teams at Cleveland. He finished his career at Pittsburgh in 1955.

Battles, who played at West Virginia Wesleyan, gained fame as a slashing halfback for the Boston Braves, Boston Redskins and Washington Redskins.

Millner, who caught the winning pass for Notre Dame in the memorable 1935 game with Ohio State, was a teammate of Battles on the Washington Redskins. He also played end for the Boston Redskins.

Donovan played defensive tackle for the New York Yanks and the Dallas Texans, but it was with the Baltimore Colts that he was at his peak.

Wojciechowicz, a teammate of Vince Lombardi on Fordham's famous Seven Blocks of Granite, starred at center and linebacker with Detroit and Philadelphia.

Federal Court Hears Appeal On Clay Case

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-judge federal court studied today former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's appeal of a five-year prison sentence and neither the defense or the government would speculate when the court would rule.

The three judges heard 70 minutes of arguments Monday and then took under advisement Clay's appeal of the sentence he received for refusing to enter the Armed Forces.

The defense, headed by Charles Morgan Jr., an Atlanta attorney for the Civil Liberties Union, argued that Clay was sincere in a contention he should be exempt from military service because he is a conscientious objector.

U.S. Atty. Morton Susman replied Clay was a conscientious objector "only at his convenience."

Although neither side would speculate when a ruling would be handed down, Morton called it a "preferred case" and said it will be moved up.

Clay refused to be inducted into the Army last April 28 and was convicted June 20. He was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000. He has been free on a $5,000 appeal bond.

Domestic groups have stripped him of his heavyweight title.

Clay was not required to be in court and he did not appear.

Morgan asked court to rule Clay's constitutional rights had been violated by a systematic exclusion of Negroes from draft boards. He also called for a ruling that the Justice Department had erred in rejecting a recommendation Clay be classified as a conscientious objector because of being a Black Muslim minister.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Carl Walker Jr., a Negro, argued Clay had been treated fairly although he agreed with Morgan that there is room for improvement on the racial balance of governmental panels and agencies.

"I'd be the first to say it is desirable and that we are moving in that direction but Cassius Clay was treated fairly," Walker said.

Susman argued that Clay never did raise the ministry or conscientious objector questions until he had been classified 1-A on Feb. 17, 1966.

NYAC Unhappy About Boycott Of Track Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Athletic Club's boycotted track meet was run with nothing worse happening than a pair of broken glasses, but the recriminations are still in evidence.

The NYAC, which kept silent while the boycott was raging, came out of its shell Monday. Negroes had boycotted the meet in protest against the club's membership policy, which, they said, discriminates against Negroes and Jews.

Ray Lumpp, director of the meet which tok place last Friday at the new Madison Square Garden, criticized the Amateur Athletic Union for allowing a contingent of seven Russians to pull out of the meet.

Originally, the Russians said they were afraid of being injured while crossing the picket line, but over the weekend they said they had pulled out two weeks earlier because they didn't want to travel from the West Coast, where they were training, to New York.

"We are not happy with the action that lets the Russians compete in the AAU meet this weekend in Oakland after being permitted to pull out of our meet, which I thought was a form of propaganda," Lumpp said.

He said the NYAC might reduce its contingent in the AAU championships to a token entry. Eight individuals and a relay team is now entered.

The boycott held Negro competitors down to a minimum—only nine competed—though James Dennis of the Air Force was going to be in the sprints before a picketer broke his glasses, forcing him out. Lumpp said the NYAC would pay for Dennis' glasses.

Complaints also came from coaches, runners and spectators that the new garden was a poor place for track. Runners said the narrow turns slowed them down. Fans said whole sections of the track were hidden from view.

Tridelphia Moves Up To 3rd In W. Virginia

Carleston's Mountain Lions, consistent leaders in the Associated Press basketball poll this season are wondering what they must do for an encore.

Win the Triple-A tournament March 14? If they do, it will be their first tournament victory since 1924. Last year they were whipped by Beckley in the finals.

Williamson is still second in the AP poll, but state sports writers and sportscasters have made some shifts in the lower places.

Fifth - ranked Triadelphia has moved up to the No. 3 spot, lowering third - ranked Mullens to a fourth-place tie with Beckley.

1. Charleston (12)	120
2. Williamson	102
3. Triadelphia	88
4. Mullins	74
4. Beckley	74
6. Ceredo - Kenova	51
7. Wheeling	46
8. Huntington High	38
9. Princeton	30
10. Fairmont East	23

Also receiving votes were Clarksburg Notre Dame, Wellsburg, Parkersburg, Bluefield, Matewan, Doddridge, Barboursville and Marlinton.

Fred Lewis Getting Out Of Coaching

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fred Lewis, the basketball coach at Syracuse University, said Monday he may quit at the end of this season. In any case, Lewis said, he probably would coach no longer than one more year.

"Who needs aggravation?" he told the Pittsburgh basketball writers at their weekly luncheon. "It took me 12 years to earn my Ph.D. I'm looking for another job, have already talked to Syracuse officials about quitting."

Reportedly, Lewis has been discussing an athletic director's post with an unnamed school in New Mexico. He refused to say what he might do if he stepped out at Syracuse, adding:

"If the position I'm seeking doesn't materialize I'll probably stay at least through next season. But if I stayed in the game I would probably wind up in the insane asylum."

Lewis is in his sixth year at Syracuse and has an over-all record of 88-56. Three of his last four teams played in postseason tournaments but this year Syracuse has only an 8-13 mark after beating Pitt 86-71 Monday night.

NFL Players Want Wage Of $15,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The American and National Football Leagues continue their annual meetings behind closed doors Tuesday with little information leaking from the portals.

The NFL did announce its representatives would meet Wednesday afternoon with represenatives from the Players' Association who are asking for such things as $15,000 minimum salary, $600 pay for exhibition games and an annual $5 million contribution to the player pension fund.

The problems of implementing the merger agreement between the two leagues by 1970 probably will be tackled by the appointment of committees to work on realignment and schedule. Commissioner Pete Rozelle will name the committees later in the week.

George Halas, the pioneer owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, said Monday he thought the ultimate result would be maintaining the structure of the present NFL and AFL as two divisions of the same league with interleague play. However, this is only one man's idea.

The clubs have been busy scheduling exhibition games, including several interleague contests. Each announces its own schedule.

Kenya Will Boycott Olympics

NAIROBI (AP) — The Kenya Government announced today it would boycott the Mexico Summer Olympics because of South Africa's readmission to the Games.

Kenya planned to send at least 50 athletes, boxers, marksmen and hockey players to the Games.

Its top athletes are accustomed to high altitude competition and, headed by world 3,000-meter champion Kipchoge Keino, were expected to win several Olympic medals.

Keino's best race likely was to have been the 5,000 meters but he also planned to compete in the 10,000 and 1,500 meters.

Naftali Temu in the 10,000 meters, Ben Kogo in the steeplechase, and Wilson Kiprugut Chuma, in the 800 meters, also were touted as possible medal winners.

Kenya ranks sixth in the world hockey standings but finished on a tie for second at the pre-Olympic Tournament in Lahore behind Pakistan last month and was hopeful of at least a bronze in Mexico.

Mikita, Hull Pace NHL Score Race

NEW YORK (AP) — They're at it again—Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull.

The two stars who specialize in winning games for the Chicago Black Hawks once again are battling each other for National Hockey League scoring title.

Mikita picked up nine points last week to take the scoring lead with 70 and Hull got eight for a second-place total of 69, league statistics revealed today.

Hull leads with 40 goals, and Rod Gilbert of New York, Ken Wharram of Chicago and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit are tied for the assist leadership with 38 each.

Goalies Rogatien Vachon and Gump Worsley of Montreal have combined for the best goal-against average of 2.09.

Chamberlain Approaching 25,000 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain is not leading the National Basketball Association in scoring this season, but for career points he's still way out in front. And he can reach another plateau in his next game, tonight—25,000 points.

The Philadelphia star, who is just 29 points shy of the 25,000 mark, also is moving in the season scoring race.

League statistics, released today, showed Chamberlain scored 137 points last week for a total of 1,529 and moved from sixth to second place. Dave Bing of Detroit leads with 1,675 and a 27.5 average.

Chamberlain also leads in field goal percentage, .582; rebounds, 1,574, and is second in assists with 519. Len Wilkens of St. Louis is the assist leader with 542, and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati has the best free throw percentage, .872.

Hirsch, Motley, Trippi Named To Football Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch and Charlie Trippi, who ran to glory in the open field, and Marion Motley, who made it with power, are among the seven newest members of professional football's Hall of Fame.

Also named Monday were Cliff Battles, Wayne Millner, Art Donovan and Alex Wojciechowicz.

A board comprised of 15 sports writers and broadcasters from National Football League cities selected the seven to join 47 other grid greats in the Hall at Canton, Ohio.

They will be inducted formally at ceremonies in Canton sometime next summer.

Hirsch, now assistant to President Dan Reeves of the Los Angeles Rams, starred at halfback for Wisconsin and Michigan, and, then as an end, led the NFL in scoring and pass receptions with the Rams in 1951. He had pro career total of 6,299 yards and 53 touchdowns with the old Chicago Rockets and the Rams.

Trippi rode high as a pro as a member of the Dream Backfield of the Chicago Cardinals, now St. Louis. He starred in college as a halfback-quarterback for Georgia.

Motley came out of the University of Nevada to star at fullback for Paul Browns' teams at Cleveland. He finished his career at Pittsburgh in 1955.

Battles, who played at West Virginia Wesleyan, gained fame as a slashing halfback for the Boston Braves, Boston Redskins and Washington Redskins.

Millner, who caught the winning pass for Notre Dame in the memorable 1935 game with Ohio State, was a teammate of Battles on the Washington Redskins. He also played end for the Boston Redskins.

Donovan played defensive tackle for the New York Yanks and the Dallas Texans, but it was with the Baltimore Colts that he was at his peak.

Wojciechowicz, a teammate of Vince Lombardi on Fordham's famous Seven Blocks of Granite, starred at center and linebacker with Detroit and Philadelphia.

Federal Court Hears Appeal On Clay Case

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-judge federal court studied today former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's appeal of a five-year prison sentence and neither the defense or the government would speculate when the court would rule.

The three judges heard 70 minutes of arguments Monday and then took under advisement Clay's appeal of the sentence he received for refusing to enter the Armed Forces.

The defense, headed by Charles Morgan Jr., an Atlanta attorney for the Civil Liberties Union, argued that Clay was sincere in a contention he should be exempt from military service because he is a conscientious objector.

U.S. Atty. Morton Susman replied Clay was a conscientious objector "only at his convenience."

Although neither side would speculate when a ruling would be handed down, Morton called it a "preferred case" and said it will be moved up.

Clay refused to be inducted into the Army last April 28 and was convicted June 20. He was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000. He has been free on a $5,000 appeal bond.

Domestic groups have stripped him of his heavyweight title.

Clay was not required to be in court and he did not appear.

Morgan asked court to rule Clay's constitutional rights had been violated by a systematic exclusion of Negroes from draft boards. He also called for a ruling that the Justice Department had erred in rejecting a recommendation Clay be classified as a conscientious objector because of being a Black Muslim minister.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Carl Walker Jr., a Negro, argued Clay had been treated fairly although he agreed with Morgan that there is room for improvement on the racial balance of governmental panels and agencies.

"I'd be the first to say it is desirable and that we are moving in that direction but Cassius Clay was treated fairly," Walker said.

Susman argued that Clay never did raise the ministry or conscientious objector questions until he had been classified 1-A on Feb. 17, 1966.

NYAC Unhappy About Boycott Of Track Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Athletic Club's boycotted track meet was run with nothing worse happening than a pair of broken glasses, but the recriminations are still in evidence.

The NYAC, which kept silent while the boycott was raging, came out of its shell Monday. Negroes had boycotted the meet in protest against the club's membership policy, which, they said, discriminates aganst Negroes and Jews.

Ray Lumpp, director of the meet which tok place last Friday at the new Madison Square Garden, criticized the Amateur Athletic Union for allowing a contingent of seven Russians to pull out of the meet.

Originally, the Russians said they were afraid of being injured while crossing the picket line, but over the weekend they said they had pulled out two weeks earlier because they didn't want to travel from the West Coast, where they were training, to New York.

"We are not happy with the action that lets the Russians compete in the AAU meet this weekend in Oakland after being permitted to pull out of our meet, which I thought was a form of propaganda," Lumpp said.

He said the NYAC might reduce its contingent in the AAU championships to a token entry. Eight individuals and a relay team is now entered.

The boycott held Negro competitors down to a minimum—only nine competed—though James Dennis of the Air Force was going to be in the sprints before a picketer broke his glasses, forcing him out. Lumpp said the NYAC would pay for Dennis' glasses.

Complaints also came from coaches, runners and spectators that the new garden was a poor place for track. Runners said the narrow turns slowed them down. Fans said whole sections of the track were hidden from view.

Tridelphia Moves Up To 3rd In W. Virginia

Carleston's Mountain Lions, consistent leaders in the Associated Press basketball poll this season are wondering what they must do for an encore.

Win the Triple-A tournament March 14? If they do, it will be their first tournament victory since 1924. Last year they were whipped by Beckley in the finals.

Williamson is still second in the AP poll, but state sports writers and sportscasters have made some shifts in the lower places.

Fifth - ranked Triadelphia has moved up to the No. 3 spot, lowering third - ranked Mullens to a fourth-place tie with Beckley.

1. Charleston (12) 120
2. Williamson 102

4. Beckley 74
6. Ceredo - Kenova 51
7. Wheeling 46
8. Huntington High 38
9. Princeton 30
10. Fairmont East 23

Also receiving votes were Clarksburg Notre Dame, Wellsburg, Parkersburg, Bluefield, Matewan, Doddridge, Barboursville and Marlinton.

Fred Lewis Getting Out Of Coaching

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fred Lewis, the basketball coach at Syracuse University, said Monday he may quit at the end of this season. In any case, Lewis said, he probably would coach no longer than one more year.

"Who needs aggravation?" he told the Pittsburgh basketball writers at their weekly luncheon. "It took me 13 years to earn my Ph.D. I'm looking for another job, have already talked to Syracuse officials about quitting."

Reportedly, Lewis has been discussing an athletic director's post with an unnamed school in New Mexico. He refused to say what he might do if he stepped out at Syracuse, adding:

"If the position I'm seeking doesn't materialize I'll probably stay at least through next season. But if I stayed in the game I would probably wind up in the insane asylum."

Lewis is in his sixth year at Syracuse and has an over-all record of 88-56. Three of his last four teams played in postseason tournaments but this year Syracuse has only an 8-13 mark after beating Pitt 85-71 Monday night.

NFL Players Want Wage Of $15,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The American and National Football Leagues continue their annual meetings behind closed doors Tuesday with little information leaking from the portals.

The NFL did announce its representatives would meet Wednesday afternoon with represenatives from the Players' Association who are asking for such things as $15,000 minimum salary, $500 pay for exhibition games and an annual $5 million contribution to the player pension fund.

The problems of implementing the merger agreement between the two leagues by 1970 probably will be tackled by the appointment of committees to work on realignment and schedule. Commissioner Pete Rozelle will name the committees later in the week.

George Halas, the pioneer owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, said Monday he thought the ultimate result would be maintaining the structure of the present NFL and AFL as two divisions of the same league with interleague play. However, this is only one man's idea.

The clubs have been busy scheduling exhibition games, including several interleague contests. Each announces its own schedule.

Kenya Will Boycott Olympics

NAIROBI (AP) — The Kenya Government announced today it would boycott the Mexico Summer Olympics because of South Africa's readmission to the Games.

Kenya planned to send at least 50 athletes, boxers, marksmen and hockey players to the Games.

Its top athletes are accustomed to high altitude competition and, headed by world 3,000-meter champion Kipchoge Keino, were expected to win several Olympic medals.

Keino's best race likely was to have been the 5,000 meters but he also planned to compete in the 10,000 and 1,500 meters.

Naftali Temu in the 10,000 meters, Ben Kogo in the steeplechase, and Wilson Kiprugut Chuma, in the 800 meters, also were touted as possible medal winners.

Kenya ranks sixth in the world hockey standings but finished on a tie for second at the pre-Olympic Tournament in Lahore behind Pakistan last month and was hopeful of at least a bronze in Mexico.

Hull leads with 40 goals, and Rod Gilbert of New York, Ken Wharram of Chicago and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit are tied for the assist leadership with 38 each.

Goalies Rogatien Vachon and Gump Worsley of Montreal have combined for the best goal-against average of 2.09.

Chamberlain Approaching 25,000 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain is not leading the National Basketball Association in scoring this season, but for career points he's still way out in front. And he can reach another plateau in his next game, tonight—25,000 points.

The Philadelphia star, who is just 29 points shy of the 25,000 mark, also is moving in the season scoring race.

League statistics, released today, showed Chamberlain scored 137 points last week for a total of 1,529 and moved from sixth to second place. Dave Bing of Detroit leads with 1,675 and a 27.5 average.

Chamberlain also leads in field goal percentage, .582; rebounds, 1,574, and is second in assists with 519. Len Wilkens of St. Louis is the assist leader with 542, and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati has the best free throw percentage, .872.

Youth Fined, Jailed In Palestine Charges

EAST PALESTINE — George M. Pondillo, 19, of 4031 Strathmore St., Youngstown, was fined and given a jail sentence by Mayor Robert Harding Friday night on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting an officer — counts dating back to an alleged attempt to strip an auto Jan. 27 on the Mackall Motors used car lot.

Pondillo was fined $100 and costs and given a 10-day jail term on the charge of resisting an officer, with $90 of the fine and nine days of the term suspended. He also was ordered to pay the court costs on the disturbing the peace count.

Police said he and a friend who still is at large were interrupted Jan. 27 in the car-stripping attempt. Pondillo fled on foot, then was captured. While being placed in a police cruiser, he broke away and fled again.

WHEREAS, said Planning Commission has recommended to Council by letter dated October 24, 1967, that in order to provide for said High Rise Residential Apartments it will be necessary to create an "R-4" district and make said district a part of the Zoning Regulations and Ordinances, and

WHEREAS, Chapter 1109, Section 1109.01 provides that Council has the authority, whenever the public necessity, convenience, general welfare or good zoning practices require, after receipt of recommendation thereon from the Planning Commission, to amend or change said regulations established by the Planning and Zoning Code of the City of East Liverpool, and Council has considered the recommendation of said Planning Commission;

Said emergency lies in the fact that the City of East Liverpool has an urgent need for the type of housing for the elderly which will be permitted by the creation of "R-4" districts, as above, since there is a great lack of proper housing for the elderly, and construction of said housing may not now take place under the present zoning code, and Federal Aid may be obtained to construct said housing if the City acts expeditiously, and it is therefore necessary to protect the health, public peace and safety of the citizens of the City of East Liverpool.

Junior Editors Quiz on SALT

QUESTION: How is salt produced?

ANSWER: "Salt is what makes potatoes taste bad when you don't put any salt on." This definition is true as well as funny. Our taste buds seem to crave salt. It's well that they do, because salt is a chemical we must have in order to live. The reason for this is given by the little salt shaker man in our picture: salt is part of our bodies, existing in the blood and in the cells. We must take it in to keep replenishing the supply, which is soon used up in our inner chemical workings. It's a curious fact that simple familiar table salt is made up of two unfamiliar elements: a metal, sodium, so soft a knife can cut it, and a dangerous gas, chlorine, which would kill you if you breathed too much of it. Together, these elements make sodium chloride, common salt. Salt is produced by flooding brine, or salty water, into shallow troughs and allowing the sun to evaporate the water. It is also mined like other minerals, for large amounts of salt lie underground, having been deposited by ancient seas.
